GOVERNMENT POWER RESPONSIBLE FOR HALTING STRIKE

Couldn't Defy United States, Says Head of Conductors; Action Is Satisfying

By LUTHER A. HUSTON
Written for International News Service

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Cabalistic messages built from a code known to only officials of the Railway Brotherhoods are humming over the wires today, carrying a message of peace in the bitterest industrial controversy the United States has known in years.

The messages were sent out to every general chairman of the "big four" brotherhoods and the Switchmen's Union of North America by the grand chiefs of those organizations. They direct that the railroad strike set for Sunday morning be called off, the sound of the death knell of a walkout that they called to seriously cripple, if not paralyze, the transportation systems of the country.

The end of the strike came just before midnight last night after hours of bitter fighting.

"The strike is off," was the laconic announcement made by W. G. Lee, head of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, at the close of the history-making session. Throughout virtually all of yesterday the executive councils of the Brotherhoods had fought behind closed doors to decide the issue of war or peace.

Peace came, it was admitted by union leaders today, because the sovereign power of the United States government stood back of the move to prevent the strike.

"We could not defy the authority of the United States," said L. E. Sheppard, chief of the conductors. "We thought we were hitting at the railroads, but found our attack was really directed against the government. We saw that it would be futile to carry out strike orders."

The United States Railroad Labor board stands out today as a rejuvenated and powerful agency for the stabilization of conditions in the railroad industry. The board was the trump card of the government in its effort to avert the strike and it won.

The board was the trump. However, the "ace in the hole" was the Department of Justice or the law-enforcing agency of the federal government. Back of the efforts of the labor board to mediate the controversy was the preparations being made by the Department of Justice at Washington for procedure against the unions for violation of the transportation act if the walkout resulted in serious interruption of traffic.

It is no secret that the fear of be-

Report to Be Made on Glendale Avenue Railroad Petitions

The petitions which have been circulated on Glendale avenue and vicinity during the past week to get signers urging an adjustment of the steam freight conditions on that street, will be reviewed at the meeting to be held in the council chamber of the city hall at 8 o'clock tonight, announces Harry C. Levey, 811 South Glendale avenue, president of the Glendale Avenue Improvement association.

It is also announced by Mr. Levey that a large number of signatures have already been secured and if the meeting tonight should prove the total sufficient, a committee will be appointed to meet with the city council asking that a committee be named to confer with the officials of the Salt Lake branch of the Union Pacific railroad to see about an adjustment of conditions.

The petitions have been circulated the entire length of Glendale avenue and vicinity during the past week, and as soon as a sufficient number of names have been secured, says Mr. Levey, the next action on the part of the association will be of a routine nature.

MRS. A. PARK IN IDAHO

Miss Minnie Park of 350 West Hawthorne street has received word of the arrival of her mother, Mrs. Annie Park, who left here Saturday, at Virginia, Idaho, where she was called by the serious illness of another daughter, Mrs. Porter Marshall. Mrs. Marshall has much improved, according to the letter received.

MRS. J. WILBUR IS HOSTESS

Mrs. James Wilbur of 321 West Cypress street was hostess yesterday afternoon to the members of the entertainment committee of the Thursday Afternoon Club, of which she is chairman. It was decided that a chicken dinner, social evening and card party would be given by that organization November 16.

ENTERTAIN WITH DINNER

Mrs. C. H. Mahaffie of 106 East Wilson avenue entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner last night Mrs. R. C. Martin and son Francis of Lancaster, A. Austin of Los Angeles, Ben D. Cromwell of Olathe, Kansas, and John Rondon and Arthur Anderson of Green Bay, Wisconsin.

Leaders in Strike Settlement Tell of Their Gratification

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Ben W. Hooper, public member of the Railroad Labor board and former governor of Tennessee—"There are some people who hold to the idea that the brotherhoods had no real intention of striking. This is a mistake. If conciliatory methods had not been used there would have undoubtedly been a most disastrous strike.

"It required only a small degree of ordinary common sense to avert the strike. Now that it is out of the way there are many lessons the public should learn from the situation relative to the transportation act and the absolute right the people have to be protected from recurrence of these periodical disturbances.

A. O. Wharton, labor member of the United States Railway Labor Board—"Myself and everyone else is satisfied with the course adopted by the union."

G. W. W. Hangar, public member of the board—"I feel much gratified that the strike has been declared off. I think the whole country owes a debt of gratitude to Governor Hooper for his effective work in bringing about this settlement."

J. E. Elliott, railroad member of the board—"I am very much gratified at the sane action taken in declaring the strike off. I know the board will do all in its power to see that amicable relations continue."

J. L. Smock, vice-president of the maintenance of ways and shop employes—"I think the settlement is all right. I am satisfied and feel my organization is satisfied. We will hold no further strike discussions at our meeting in Detroit November 3."

FINAL TRIBUTES AT FUNERAL SERVICES FOR WAR HERO

Impressive Ceremony Is Held for W. S. Schaeffer, Who Was Killed in France

The bugle blew taps, the firing squad grounded its rifles and yesterday afternoon, Thursday, October 27, 1921, the body of Private William S. Schaeffer, of El Paso, Texas, who was killed "Over There," was laid to rest in Slumberland.

The benediction at the grave was pronounced by Rev. C. N. Calderwood, pastor of the Congregational church and chaplain of the local post of the American Legion.

The funeral was held in the Little Church of the Flowers at Forest Lawn cemetery. The chapel was profusely embowered in floral tributes. These had been arranged by Pulliam & Kiefer. Many of them were placed near the casket, which was draped in an American flag.

The services were conducted by the local lodge of Elks. Cameron D. Hart Thom, past-exalted ruler, officiated. He was assisted by A. H. Dibbern, leading knight; James A. Apffel, esteemed loyal knight; Earl Patterson, lecturing knight; James F. McBryde, chaplain; Gerald Dockeray, esquire, and Willis M. Kimball, secretary. The Elks' funeral ritual was followed.

City Officials Present

In honor to the deceased, Mayor Spencer Robinson and many of the members of the city government were present at the funeral. The church was full to overflowing with those who had come to do tribute to the memory of a service man who had died in the service of his country.

"Face to Face" was sung by Keomoki Lewis, a Legion man from Hawaii who is a member of the local post, and a duet, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" was sung by Mr. Lewis and Spencer Robinson. Mrs. Robinson played the accompaniments.

Services at the grave were conducted by the American Legion with Rev. C. N. Calderwood, chaplain, officiating.

As the casket was taken from the church to the grave in Slumberland plot of Forest Lawn cemetery, the hearse was accompanied by Legion pallbearers.

The following men served: Vern Nieman, Julius Moniot, Fred Butts, Joe Kucero, Clarence Edwards and Clancy L. Hogue. The firing squad came from the Arcadia Balloon school.

Survived by Parents

William S. Schaeffer is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schaeffer, 210 East Cypress street, and a number of brothers.

Before answering the call of his country, he was an electrician in El Paso, Texas, and a member of the same lodge of Elks of which General Pershing is a life member. Out of over 500 Elks from his community he was the only one to pay the supreme sacrifice.

QUAIL SEASON IS NOV. 1

Several local hunters seem to be misinformed about the opening of the quail season. It is November 1 this year—not October 15, so be careful, boys.

AUTO BUS SYSTEM THROUGHOUT CITY PLAN OF P. E.

Railway Asks Council for Right to Run Automobile Lines Over Streets

Automobile bus lines will be established in Glendale within the next sixty days by the Pacific Electric Railway company to act as a "feeder" to its Burbank-Los Angeles line.

This became known at the meeting of the city council last night when Attorney Smith, representing the company, and Hal Davenport of this city, appeared and made the request for permission to use certain streets for the auto bus line.

The application was filed by the Pacific Electric Land company, a company identified with the Pacific Electric Railway company. Mr. Davenport has for some time, he stated, been striving to interest the railway company in a bus service for Glendale.

Proposed Route

Here is the proposed route to be taken by auto busses:

Commencing at East Broadway and Adams street; thence via Adams street to Acacia avenue, thence via Acacia avenue to Boynton street, thence via Boynton street to Palmer avenue, thence via Palmer avenue to Glendale avenue, thence via Glendale avenue to Cypress avenue, thence via Cypress avenue to San Fernando road, thence via San Fernando road to Pacific avenue, thence via Pacific avenue to Broadway, thence via Broadway to Columbus avenue, thence via Columbus avenue to Myrtle street, thence via Myrtle street to Pacific avenue, thence via Pacific avenue to Burchett street.

Referred to Police

Acting under a provision of the ordinance regulating bus traffic in Glendale, the application was referred to the chief of police for investigation and report. The company was assured that the permit would be granted.

Incidentally, when Attorney Smith was asking for the permit, Councilman S. A. Davis inquired about the matter of the city's paying $30 a month for the upkeep of the comfort station in the local Pacific Electric depot.

The attorney declared the company believed that the charge was a just one. However, he said, the charge would be eliminated if such

Boy, Can of Paint and Idea Mix; New Church 'Decorated'

Turn loose a small boy and a paint can—then watch what happens.

Some smart youngster got the opportunity yesterday to do some decorating on his own accord and he chose the new Catholic church.

By using black paint on a light brown background, he obtained a most grotesque as well as obnoxious design which cannot be appreciated by Father James F. O'Neill.

It is believed that the miscreant attends the Colorado street school and there are several people eager to find out what his name is and how strenuously his father can spank.

Spanking is suitable punishment for such sacrilege, the Rev. Father O'Neill opines.

"Just to think that the marks will be there when he grows to be a man," added the priest.

Undoubtedly he meant the paint.

First Methodist Choir Entertained at Party

The members of the choir of the First Methodist church were entertained at a Halloween party in the social hall of the church last night with Mrs. M. S. Kuehny and Mrs. Harriett Randall as the hostesses. The sixty-five persons who attended came masked and in Halloween costumes. When they first entered the church building they were met by ghosts and all the lights were out. They were first escorted through the different rooms of the church before being taken into a room lighted with only red lights. The social hall itself was dark except for the jack-o-lanterns on the table.

Refreshments of pumpkin pie and coffee were served at tables placed in the form of a cross and decorated in the Halloween colors. The centerpiece was a large pumpkin containing nut shells with fortunes inside.

One of the special numbers of the evening was the "Witches' Dance" from Macbeth. Mrs. Kuehny, Mrs. Randall and Mrs. Farnam took the parts of the three witches and chanted the words around a large cauldron, which was in the center of the room. Halloween games were then played, after which choir rehearsal was held.

ARTS AND CRAFTS SECTION

The arts and crafts section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, of which Mrs. R. W. Meeker is curator, met yesterday afternoon at the library. The section met at 10 o'clock in the morning and continued working on making French flowers of ribbon, silk, etc., until 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

MATTISON B. JONES HONOR GUEST AT BIG RECEPTION

Recent Election to High Place in Masonic Circles Cause for Congratulations

A very impressive and hearty welcome was given at the reception held last night by the Masonic bodies of Glendale in honor of Mattison Boyd Jones, who was recently elected to the office of Grand Master of the Second Vail of the General Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of the United States at the triennial convention, which was held at Asheville, North Carolina.

The reception was presided over by Excellent High Priest Ernest J. Morgan of Unity Chapter No. 116 of Royal Arch Masons, and Companion Jones was received with private honors in his own chapter, after which the lodge was thrown open to Knights Templar and Blue Lodge Masons.

The lines were formed with the Knights Templar in full uniform, and Companion Jones was received with full honors through the lines as a Past Commander of Glendale Commandery No. 53 of Knights Templar. The meeting was then turned over to Henry P. Goodwin, Worshipful Master of Unity Lodge No. 358, F. and A. M.

Talks Are Given

Addresses were made by Mr. Morgan, Mr. Goodwin and Daniel Campbell, Eminent Commander of Commandery No. 53. These were responded to by Mr. Jones, who gave an outline of some of the experiences on his recent trip to Asheville and also to Kentucky.

While in the state of Kentucky Mr. Jones visited his alma mater, the

CREDIT BUREAU FOR LOCAL MERCHANTS IS ORGANIZED

Officers Are Chosen and List of Members Secured to Launch Association

Organization of the Glendale Merchants Credit association was effected last night at a meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. C. E. Neale was elected president; H. S. Webb, vice president, and H. M. Butts, Attorney Owen C. Emery, William H. Hooper, W. L. Moore and Archie Parker, members of the executive committee.

Upon these men rests the future of the organization. The finance committee, appointed at a meeting of business men one week ago, reported through their chairman, H. S. Webb, that $460 a month had been guaranteed by fifty representative firms and individuals.

Rules, regulations and by-laws are to be drawn up by the executive committee, Attorney Emery being delegated to assist them in this work, and a secretary is to be selected. Quarters and equipment are to be obtained and on motion of Robert Plume the committee was instructed to proceed as rapidly as possible with these details.

Make Suggestions

Messrs. Butts, Hooper and Sherrod were appointed by Chairman C. E. Neale of the Chamber of Commerce committee to act as officers of the election which was held by secret ballot. During the evening W. W. Weir, president of the Los Angeles Retail Credit Men's association, J. H. Vandewater, secretary of that organization, H. J. Miller, a member of Hamburger's credit department who resides in Glendale, and others gave their advice in matters pertaining to

HARDING GLAD RAILROAD STRIKE HAS BEEN AVERTED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—"I am greatly pleased," said President Harding when he returned to Washington this morning and was officially apprised that the threatened nation-wide railroad strike had been averted.

HEAVY LOSS OF LIFE IN SOUTHERN ITALY FROM STORMS

ROME, Oct. 28.—Storms and floods in southern Italy have caused heavy loss of life and much property damage, according to advices here today. Six persons were drowned when a train fell from a weakened bridge near Reggio into a river.

BABE RUTH TO ENTER VAUDEVILLE AT $3000 PER WEEK

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Babe Ruth transferred the scene of his activities to Pittsburg today. The Babe has just signed a contract with a vaudeville magnate calling for twenty weeks at $3000 a week and will rehearse his act in Pittsburg with his partner, "Duke" Cross.

MAN AND WOMAN MEET DEATH IN AUTO ACCIDENT

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 28.—Miss Ruth Wortham, 54, a colored missionary of Alaska, whose home is in San Bernardino, Calif., and James H. Wilson, 62, a retired farmer, lost their lives early today when the automobile in which they were riding left the pavement five miles south of Salem, dropped down a steep bank and landed, bottom side up, in a creek.

EVELYN NESBIT, EX-WIFE HARRY THAW, TRIES SUICIDE

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Evelyn Nesbit, former wife of Harry Thaw, and central figure in the two famous murder trals of the latter, attempted to end her life by taking ten grains of morphine in her living quarters above her tea shop this afternoon. Almost immediately she repented of her action and called her lawyer, notifying him of what she had done. A physician was hastily summoned and it was said she would recover.

SEEK TO FORCE ACTION ON SOLDIERS' BONUS BILL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—A move to force the senate to vote on the soldiers' bonus bill as it was reported favorably by the senate finance committee and subsequently re-committed to the committee at the request of President Harding, was made in the senate today by Senator Reed, democrat, of Missouri, a member of the committee. Reed offered the soldiers' bonus bill as an amendment to the pending compromise tax bill. It will necessitate senate action and probably will reopen debate on the long pending legislation for the compensation of American world war veterans.

MARSHAL FOCH IS GIVEN AN ENTHUSIASTIC WELCOME

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Marshal Ferdinand Foch, former generalissimo of the allied armies and acclaimed as the greatest soldier since Napoleon, conquered America today. Marshal Foch arrived late this afternoon on the French liner Paris, and a greeting unprecedented in proportions and enthusiasm was preparaed for him. It was more than a welcome to New York city; it expressed the cordial greetings of the nation. Delay in the running time of the Paris, and the speeding of the liner George Washington, with General Pershing on board, made it possible for General Pershing to land first and participate in the demonstration to his former military chief.

COMMITTEE DISCUSSES DETAILS OF CELEBRATION ON ARMISTICE DAY; PLANS PARADE, SERVICES, SPORTS

Dru Nicoles, Head of Local American Legion, Is Chairman of Organization; Many Bodies Will Take Part in Monster Celebration

AN ENTHUSIASTIC GROUP of men and women, representing nineteen different Glendale organizations, were present last night at the Intermediate school building at the first meeting of the promoters of the coming Armistice day celebration, November 11. The day's program, which will consist of a monster parade, a football game and various other special features, is to be the largest and best of any similar affair ever held in this city, according to Dru Nicoles, who was elected to act as president of the supervisors of the project.

Following the election of Mr. Nicoles as chairman and Richardson D. White as secretary, the body unanimously adopted the outline of plans as presented by the chairman. These plans, which include the complete arrangements for the gala event, will be worked out by the various committees during the coming week.

The parade, which is scheduled to start at 10 o'clock, will take the following course:

Forming at the circus grounds at Harvard street and Central avenue, the procession will go south to Colorado, east to Brand, north to Broadway, east to Jackson, north to Wilson, west to Brand, south to Broadway, west to Central and back to the starting point.

The procession is expected to be the longest and most impressive that has even taken place in Glendale.

Many To Take Part

The following organizations have already signified their intention of participating in the affair, while a number of others will probably be heard from within the next few days:

The American Legion, G. A. R., Women's Auxiliary, Sons of Veterans, Daughters of Veterans, Women's Relief Corps, Boy Scouts, Campfire Girls, the local National Guard, Knights of Pythias, Elks, Tuesday Afternoon Club, Parent-Teachers' Federation, the American Order of United Workmen, high school faculty, high school board of trustees, fire department, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, City Board of Education and the teachers of the elementary schools.

The parade will be enlivened for the kiddies by the appearance of a

Told This City Is 'Heaven on Earth,' Come Here and Stay

Why do you live in Glendale? Among the communications received by The Glendale Evening News answering this question, the following exemplifies the desirability of having a home here:

MRS. J. T. SMITH, 445 West Broadway: "My friend Mrs. Clem Moore is the cause of my coming to Glendale as she wrote me that it was heaven on earth. All of which made me curious to get a glimpse of heaven. My husband and I started for California last May, 1920, and we soon made up our minds that this was God's country, and Glendale the spot to put our feet.

"We went back to New York, sold our property there and returned to Glendale as soon as we could. We are not 'chickens,' but hope to stay in beautiful Glendale until we are ninety or more. I would not go back east for the gift of the Woolworth building—except to sell it and bring back the money to help Glendale."

Others who have ideas on this subject are invited to write.

Dr. Wilburn Smith Is Speaker to Physicians

The Glendale Physicians' club met at the office of Dr. Henry Harrower in his new building at the corner of Broadway and Belmont on Wednesday night in regular session.

Dr. Wilburn Smith, a Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons, England, read an article on internal strangulation which was of great interest to those present.

This club, of which Dr. H. D. Boyer is president, is composed of all the regular physicians in Glendale. The meetings are held the first and last Wednesdays of each month, and serve to bring together the physicians of Glendale and adjacent towns, affording them an opportunity to discuss the various cases that come under their care, and also the advances that are being made in medical science.

REPORTS HOLDUP ATTEMPT

E. M. Mouser of 627 North Howard street reported to the police last night that an attempted holdup was staged at a Japanese fruit stand on Los Feliz road, just over the Glendale line in Los Angeles. No trace of the marauders could be found.

1 WHEEL GONE, 3 FOUND

Raymond Frey of 443 Salem street reports to the police that his bicycle was stolen. The department counters with the report of three wheels were recovered, although the thieves got away. A 36x6 tire also was found and awaits its owner.

Viola Yorba Still Leads in Legion's Contest for Queen

The American Legion Carnival Queen Contest has reached the stage of status quo, for those who are seeking the honor are withholding votes, it is said. And some of them are piling a high total for the coming week that will make their friends and the friends of others "sit up and take notice."

To make matters more interesting, L. W. Hoge, manager of this feature of the celebration, plans to publish the list of candidates and their standing every day. Look at how they line up today:

Miss Viola Yorba	25,400
Miss Dorothy Morton	23,400
Miss Winifred Sternberg	15,225
Miss Louise Moniot	14,825
Mrs. Warren Roberts	12,125
Mrs. Ellene Wheelon	12,075
Miss Edna Bronnenberg	6,275
Miss Florence Kriske	6,100
Miss Lucile Park	3,750
Miss Mary Chapman	2,600
Miss Helen DeLaine	2,500
Miss Marguerite Eckles	1,450

Council Considers Prohibiting Signs Placed Upon Walks

The city council has under consideration an ordinance which will, if it goes into effect, prohibit any signs from being stationed on sidewalks in the business district of the city.

The ordinance was up for adoption at the council meeting last night, but was held over until next meeting. Councilmen C. E. Kimlin and Spencer Robinson expressed themselves as being in favor of the measure.

At last night's meeting, with Councilmen S. A. Davis and A. H. Lapham voting no, the council adopted an ordinance which prohibits merchants from making displays of their wares twelve inches beyond their store line.

Jeanne Bondaux Hostess With Halloween Party

Jeanne Gabrielle Bondaux, daughter of Mrs. Heloise Bondaux of 306 North Central avenue, was hostess yesterday afternoon at a Hallowe'en party, to a number of her little friends. Her home was very appropriately decorated for the occasion with witches, cats, bats and owls. The shades were drawn and light furnished by pumpkin lanterns. The color scheme of black and yellow was also carried out in the refreshments. Orange colored paper, California poppy bon bon baskets, orange colored candies, ices and cakes were served. Musical chairs, hunting peanuts and other children's games provided a great deal of merriment.

The little guests included Alice Ayars, Patricia Carline, Mildred Fife, Mary Elizabeth George, Beryl Campbell, Catherine Helen Dotson, Estelle Sooy, Dorothy Brennan, Metty Clark, Marjorie Ratcliffe, Hedwig Maier and Barbara Chandler of Verdugo Woodlands, and the little hostess, Jeanne Gabrielle Bondaux.

Car Skids on Bridge, Bumped by Another

What might have proved a serious accident turned out to be a minor affair when R. W. Peterman's car skidded on the Glendale boulevard bridge and was struck by one driven by A. Pomeroy of 817 Ross street. Mr. Peterman lives at 1625 South Glendale avenue.

J. Gleason of 717 East Chestnut and Lewis C. Davis of 130 North Isabel were drivers of cars colliding at Broadway and Kenwood street. Several other minor smashes were reported.

GOVERNMENT POWER RESPONSIBLE FOR HALTING STRIKE

ing "outlawed" by the labor board and declared ineligible to share in the benefits of future decisions of the board with regard to wage schedules and working rules was a factor given much consideration by the brotherhoods.

Settelment of the controversy, as was pointed out yesterday, is based on the assurance of the labor board that no petitions by the railroads for additional wage cuts would be acted upon until all controversies over rules governing working conditions are adjusted. This was coupled with the promise of the railway executives that no wage reductions would be put into effect without due procedure before the labor board.

Hours of bitter debate raged around the sufficiency of these assurances. It was apparent that the Brotherhood leaders were considering the attitude of the membership of their organization. The big question apparently was whether the men would follow the advice of their leaders and consider the assurances given by the labor board and the railroads as a "satisfactory settlement" of the controversy. This question is still somewhat of an issue today, but the general belief is that the membership will accept the decision of the leaders and remain at work. If any unauthorized walkouts occur, it is believed they will be sporadic.

They Are Peacemakers

Three men stood out today as peacemakers. Chief credit is given to Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the public group of the labor board and former governor of Tennessee. Hooper, believed to be acting as the personal representative of President Harding, assumed the leadership in the board's efforts to avert the strike. He went personally before the union leaders yesterday and laid before them the assurances of the labor board.

Hooper's plea to the union leaders won over Wm. Lee, head of the trainmen, and Lee thereafter led the fight for peace at the union conference. It was a stubborn fight, but a winning one.

W. L. McMenniman, a member of the labor group of the board, likewise had a hand in the peace negotiations. It was McMenniman, a former member of the trainmen, who arranged for the appearance of Hooper before the union chiefs.

The decision to call off the strike came when the conductors and engineers joined with the trainmen. The firemen, of whom W. S. Carter is the head, held out to the last for a strike. The switchmen did not vote since the action taken by the trainmen, conductors and enginemen was sufficient under the rules of the "big five" to bind the other two. The official vote to call off the strike was 350 in favor of rescinding the strike order and 37 against. The thirty-seven comprise the executive council of the firemen.

Brief statements only were made by union chiefs and labor board members after the conference. Additional statements were expected today and the union chiefs were expected also to make public the resolution, adoption of which ended the strike controversy.

"I am very gratified that the unions have taken the position not to strike," said Hooper. "A general strike at this time would have cost the country more than the entire civil war and would put the country back a lot in its trip toward normalcy."

"I shall get down on my knees and thank God that the catastrophe has been averted," Lee declared. "I have on my desk thousands of letters from wives and children of railroad employes asking me to do everything possible to prevent a strike. When I think of the suffering a strike would have caused these people, when I think of the disaster it might have brought to the country, I say again I thank God we took the action that we did."

Other leaders of the rail unions and members of the labor board expressed gratification over the outcome of the controversy as did numerous railway executives.

Administration Well Pleased at Outcome of Railroad Fight

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 28.—Highly pleased with the action of the railroad brotherhood leaders in deciding to rescind their strike order, administration leaders today indicated they will not let the railroad problem rest.

President Harding, on his return from the south today, may issue a statement upon the settlement of the strike, it was said, and it is fully expected that he will take up with his cabinet measures to prevent a recurrence of the threatened trouble.

The president has indicated his belief that the railroad labor board must be placed upon a more powerful basis or abolished altogether and it is expected here the administration will seek congressional action which will give the board power to enforce its decisions.

The president is also committed to a policy of freight rate reductions and, with the strike order rescinded, it is believed that he will lend his influence to such a movement.

Although officials here state that the credit for the settlement of the strike must go to the railway labor board, in which the president placed his entire confidence, they said that the accomplishment of the board had been achieved through moral suasion rather than through actual power. In another similar situation, moral suasion might not prevail, it was pointed out, and administration leaders feel that the railroad labor board, if it is to be an effective agency, must have some definite power of enforcing its decisions.

Officials said today that they realized that the rescinding of the strike order does not remove the complaints of the railroad employes and that steps must be taken to adjust matters of differences between employers and employes.

Two Church Teams Meet Tonight for Discussion of Plans

The "Bairds" and the "Browns," the two teams of the Presbyterian church under the general management of Rev. Louis Tinning and under the leadership of A. L. Baird, 637 North Orange street, and H. L. Brown, 406 North Maryland avenue, will meet in the Sunday school room of the Presbyterian church at 6:30 o'clock tonight to enjoy a complimentary dinner at which time both teams will receive instructions as to the plan of the greater building fund campaign, which will be launched next Sunday to raise funds for the new Presbyterian church at the northwest corner of Louise and Harvard streets.

The building fund campaign will be waged in the spirit of a contest between the teams, the losing side to give a banquet to the winners.

section turned over to the circus, which will include the exhibition of a regular wild animal show.

Invitation Is Extended

In case that a few organizations may have been overlooked when the invitations were distributed, The Glendale Evening News was requested to extend an invitation through its columns urging every patriotic, fraternal and civic association within the city to take an active part in the parade.

Notice should be given to Richardson D. White at his office in the Intermediate school before Thursday of next week, when the committee will hold a meeting for final arrangements.

Mr. Nicoles, who, as post commander of the American Legion, acted as grand marshal of the Armistice day celebration last year, was unanimously prevailed upon to assume that position in the coming parade.

Robert Danner, H. M. McGillis and N. C. Hayhurst were selected to act on the automobile committee, which will be in charge of the transportation arrangements of the day. Mrs. W. M. Crawford was chosen to conduct a personal canvass of all Glendale organizations before next week's meeting.

Services To Be Held

Following the parade, which will end at about 11:30 o'clock, attention will be drawn to the speakers' stand which is to be erected on Harvard and Orange streets, where a brief service in commemoration of America's hero dead will be conducted.

Just as the 12 o'clock dial is reached the crowd will bow their heads in silence for two minutes, during which time the body of an unknown American soldier is to be lowered into the grave at the Arlington national cemetery. This action will be taken to comply with the request recently made by President Harding.

At 2:30 o'clock the "big doin's" will be continued at the high school athletic field, where the local high school football team will play a scheduled league game with the first team of Monrovia high school. As these two squads are now at the top of the percentage column in the Central league standings, it is expected that this game will be the one which is to decide the championship of the league.

Elder W. F. Martin Goes to St. Helena; Will Visit College

Elder W. F. Martin of the Pacific Union Conference headquarters here for the Seventh-day Adventist church, has gone to St. Helena for a week where he will visit the Pacific Union college.

Elder S. T. Thurston of the Western Oregon conference was a visitor at the offices here, having come to Glendale to see his parents who reside on East Harvard street.

The Misses Violet Bell and Dorothea Thew of the conference office force enjoyed two days at Catalina Island this week.

Postmaster General Hays Is Injured in Collision of Trains

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Scores of persons, including Postmaster General Will H. Hays were injured early today when the midnight express on the Pennsylvania railroad for Washington crashed into the rear end of a local train near Manhattan Transfer on the Jersey Meadows. Rush D. Simons, chief postoffice inspector, sustained severe injuries.

Hays suffered from shock and strained muscles, according to his physician.

The collision occurred while a dense fog hung over the Meadows.

It was feared some of the passengers on the express suffered fractured skulls.

Hays was taken to the Waldorf-Astoria hotel here, where he was treated by an osteopath, who declared there were no bones broken, but that the postmaster general had sustained a severe shock and that his muscles were badly strained.

Dr. Lee H. Frankel, vice president of the Metropolitan Insurance company, also suffered from shock.

Fifteen persons were taken to hospitals for treatment following the wreck.

State University of Kentucky at Lexington. He also addressed the grand lodge meetings of the Blue Lodge, Royal Arch Masons and Council of the state of Kentucky, which were held at Louisville. Mr. Jones also spoke of having met the present governor of that state, who was formerly a pupil of his at the university some years ago.

The members of the Masonic bodies of Glendale feel quite highly honored at being recognized in the general grand chapter, as it is the first time that the Pacific coast, and more particularly California, has been represented by having an officer elected for a position with the general grand chapter. Mr. Jones is also grand high priest of the grand chapter of Royal Arch Masons of the state of California.

Hundreds Attend

Announcement was also made last night that members of the Glendale Masonic lodges were going to attend the Crusaders' pageant, which is being given tonight at Tournament park, Pasadena, by the Knights Templar Commandery of that city.

Following the business meeting and reception, refreshments were served to the more than 400 Masons present in the banquet room. Several humorous readings by W. W. Worley were very much enjoyed. The committee in charge of last night's reception included Ernest Morgan, Roy Masters, Fred Collins, Mark T. Lee and Dr. Roy V. Hogue.

TWO LEFT FEET? OH, NO!

That a customer had come in recently with two left feet to be fitted with shoes was denied this morning by Alfred A. Baines of Baines & Ecklebarger, 312 East Broadway. He called attention, however, to the fact that a shoe sale is still in progress and that wonderful bargains are still available.

organization and from every side came words of confidence in the success of the venture.

It was announced by Mr. Vandewater that next "school" in credit work for retail merchants would be held in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium in Los Angeles, Friday evening, November 18, and local business men who must sift the public's ability to pay were invited to attend. He also called attention of the local officers to the round table meetings held every Wednesday and Friday and expressed a desire to have them present in order that they would see the benefit of similar luncheons here.

Mr. Webb and his finance committee will continue their solicitation of merchants in order that the greatest number may be served and their interests protected.

Russia Awakening With Aid From U. S.

LONDON—M. Almgreen, a wealthy and prominent Swedish business man, has just arrived in London from a visit to Russia and gives some interesting details on how Russia is "waking up."

He states that all the factories that he visited are very busy, employing the full number of hands and having plenty of orders, particularly the Putilov Works and the aeroplane shops; and, although the clothing industry is catching up with the demand, the bootmaking firms cannot keep pace with the orders.

What chiefly struck M. Almgreen was the fact that the United States is outdistancing all other competitors in the race for Russian markets. Numerous American steamers, with full cargoes for Bolshevist consumption, are arriving at Reval, and an American shipping company, which formerly worked a line between New York and Archangel, is placing three more ocean-going steamers on this route.

He says that Petrograd and Moscow are swarming with foreign business men.

After a man has been married a few weeks he realizes that a great cook is rather to be chosen than great dancing ability.

All women do not shoot their husbands and men friends or you wouldn't see so many able-bodied men hanging around the pool-rooms.

Locals and Personals

Mrs. Betty D. Webster has moved her piano studio from 318 West Harvard street to 1008 East Lexington Drive.

Mrs. W. E. Theobald of 355 West Hawthorne street is quite ill at her home and has been confined to her bed for the past three weeks.

Mrs. Clifford Bassell of Glendale and Mrs. Gates of Pasadena were luncheon guests Wednesday of Mrs. Melvin Kline of 332 Burchett street.

Miss Dorothy Wilde of 623 Orange Grove avenue spent Monday night in Los Angeles, where she was the guest of Miss Mary Woolridge on Potter Park avenue.

Miss Irene Shepherd of Jerome, Idaho, is a guest at the home of Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, 307 North Kenwood street. Miss Shepherd is the sister of Mrs. Julian Hayward.

Mrs. O. A. Wilson left Tuesday for her home in Omaha, after spending two weeks as the guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. H. C. Smith of 921 East Wilson avenue.

B. E. Theobald, druggist, of Columbia, Missouri, is visiting with his mother, Mrs. Ella Theobald, 102 West California avenue. Mr. Theobald finds Glendale to his liking and may locate here permanently.

Mrs. Van Arsdale Smith of 514 North Jackson street and Mrs. T. G. Widmeyer attended the musicale and tea given at the Ambassador hotel yesterday afternoon for the benefit of the Girls' Studio club of Hollywood.

Miss Millicent Alvord, daughter of Mrs. Emma M. Alvord of 314 West Broadway and Miss Grace Judd, daughter of Mrs. M. S. Judd of 130 South Orange street, are arriving today from Pomona college, at Claremont, and will spend the week-end at home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hull of 513 Milford street left Glendale yesterday morning for Leon, Iowa, where they will spend the winter at the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Hull, who is the publisher of the Leon Reporter.

C. A. Berger of Bakersfield is visiting at the home of his brother, Claude Berger, 403 East Lomita avenue. He is taking a few days' vacation from his position with the H. C. Landstrom company, automobile dealers in Kern county.

Miss Suzanne Goertz of 347 North Central avenue, who has been connected with the Glendale Research hospital, left Wednesday for St. Paul, where she will be engaged in a similar line of work and will also visit relatives. She will remain at least until next summer.

The Study Club of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist church met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. A. Wright, 141 North Louise street. At that time the study of the book "The Kingdom and the Nations" was taken up.

Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward of 307 North Kenwood street as a member of Alpha Phi sorority of Northwestern university attended a luncheon yesterday of the Southern California Alumni association at the home of Mrs. L. S. Lashe of 144 South Serrano street, Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Searles of 465 Patterson avenue have been entertaining as their house guests, Mr. Searles' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Searles of San Francisco, and also his sister, Mrs. R. B. Bowman and daughter of San Diego. They enjoyed a picnic party at Brookside recently.

Joseph Knefler of West Milford street, who was seriously injured in August when a suburban car ran over his foot, has so far recovered as to be able to return to high school this coming week. While he will be forced to use crutches for some time he is now assured that he will recover the use of his foot, minus two toes.

Mrs. Robert Carpenter of 446 West Elk avenue, will be one of the guests at a luncheon and matinee party, given in Los Angeles Saturday by a group of her classmates from the University of California, at which Mrs. David Carmichael will be the guest of honor. She will be remembered as Miss Phyllis Adams who became the bride of David Carmichael, a Stanford graduate, in September.

Mrs. Lillian M. Thomas of New York, daughter of Mrs. J. T. Smith of 445 West Broadway, and her friend Miss Katherine Ehlen have come to this city to make their home with Mrs. Smith. Both of these young women are loud in their praises of Glendale and are very glad that they have been able to leave New York, with its approaching cold and disagreeable winter, behind and to enjoy "God's country."

Mrs. Jesse Smith of 618 North Jackson street entertained with a luncheon party at the Los Angeles Athletic club, followed by a matinee party at a Los Angeles theatre on Wednesday afternoon in honor of her sister, Mrs. M. J. Clark of Chicago. Guests included Mrs. Clark, Mrs. M. J. Brennan, Mrs. Peter L. Ferry, Mrs. J. A. Endicott, Mrs. J. Cooper, Mrs. George Smith, Miss Susan Wendell, Mrs. Thomas Smith, Mrs. Frank Clark and the hostess, Mrs. Smith.

The annual praise service meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the Tropico Presbyterian church was held in the church building yesterday. There were about twenty members present. At noon luncheon was served, followed by a business meeting with Mrs. L. E. Richardson presiding. Extracts from the prayer calendar were given and hymns sung. Miss Williamson and Mrs. S. E Brown gave reports of the Federated Missionary society of this district, which met Monday in the Presbyterian church at Eagle Rock.

The entertainment committee of the Glendale lodge of Elks, No. 1289, of which Joseph Bellue is chairman, have been at work several evenings completing some very unusual decorations for the informal Hallowe'en dance which will be held at the clubhouse tomorrow night for Elks.

An auto party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Thompson and family and Herman L. McQuire of San Diego called at the Circle Real Estate office yesterday afternoon while on a ten-day tour of this part of the state. Every one of the party were well impressed with Glendale and the activity of the place.

Special music for Sunday morning is announced at the Men's Bible class which meets every Sunday in the council chamber of the city hall. Keith L. Brooks of the Bible Institute has prepared an interesting lesson on "The Sermon on the Mount," and the members of the class are making an attempt to have a record attendance.

Dr. A. Dwight Smith from Mason City, Iowa, a homeopathic physician, who just bought the A. A. Barton home at 630 North Howard street from the James W. Pearson agency, expects to move into his newly-acquired residence Monday, November 1. The doctor has been unable to find suitable offices as yet; so will conduct his practice from his home at present.

St. Marks' guild met yesterday afternoon in the guild hall of the church at 1:30 o'clock to work on articles on the bazaar to be given November 19. The business meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. B. O. Holbrook, at 3 o'clock, and two new members were admitted. Next Thursday will be an all day meeting, beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning. A picnic lunch will be served at noon.

Deaths and Funerals

JOHN ALEXANDER ENGLE

John Alexander Engle, 814 East Harvard street, passed away last Thursday night, October 27, 1921, from heart trouble. Yesterday Mr. Engle, who was a carpenter, was working on a residence on Cedar avenue for his sister-in-law, Mrs. Lucy Webster. At the usual hour last night he retired. This morning he was found dead.

Mr. Engle was born in Pennsylvania sixty-three years ago and came to California twenty-nine years ago and lived in Los Angeles until sixteen years ago, when he came to Glendale. Since that time he had participated in the erection of many homes here.

Mrs. A. E. Engle and the following seven children survive: Mrs. Luetta May Fairchild, Altadena; Mrs. Vivian Gates, Keenach; Carl, Ray, Miss Helen, Allen and Harold.

Funeral services have not been arranged yet but it is expected they will take place at the L. G. Scovern chapel, 1000 South Brand boulevard on Monday.

MRS. MARGARET SCOTTEN

Mrs. Margaret E. Scotten, mother of Mrs. Anna McDonald of 438 Pioneer drive, passed away last night, Thursday, October 27, 1921, at 7:30 o'clock at the age of 86 years. Funeral services will be held at the parlors of L. G. Scovern Undertaking company, date to be announced later. The body will be taken to Plymouth, Mich., for interment.

MRS. JENNIE S. LANGTON

Funeral services for Mrs. Jennie S. Langton, who passed away at 618 South Adams street, October 23, 1921, will be held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the chapel of the L. G. Scovern Undertaking company, Rev. W. W. Cookman in charge. Interment will be at Forest lawn.

MRS. LINA BAILEY

Miss Carolyn G. Bailey, organist at the First Presbyterian church since last June, is mourning the death of her mother, Mrs. Lina Bailey, yesterday, at the family home, 5846 Gregory avenue, Hollywood. Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. W. E. Edmonds at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in Los Angeles.

GARRETT ZEEMAN

Garrett Zeeman, retired banker, passed away yesterday in Glendale, where he had been stopping for the last three months. The remains will be accompanied by Mrs. Katherine Zeeman to the family home in Estherville, Iowa. Mr. Zeeman was 64 years old and was born in Holland.

AUCTION OLD RESIDENCE

GENEVA, N. Y.—Maple Hill, century-old Geneva residence, will soon figure in a real estate deal. When, in June, 1825,, General Lafayette, of Revolutionary renown, visited Geneva it was in Maple Hill that the great French benefactor was entertained. What is believed to be the largest tree in the state, measuring twenty-four feet in circumference, was named after Lafayette to memorialize his visit. The old residence typifies the stately mansions of the early nineteenth century and ranks in history with the Schuyler mansion, of Albany, and other historical residences of that period.

J. R. GREY'S CAR DAMAGED

While J. R. Grey of 667 West Doran street was backing his motor car out of parking space on West Broadway near Brand boulevard this morning, G. G. Merrick of 1018 East Harvard street drove his machine into the rear of the former car. C. L. Booth, insurance man, immediately took charge to have Mr. Grey's car repaired. The accident was said to be unavoidable.

INVESTIGATE FOR RABIES

The health department reports that a supposedly mad dog died at J. Whytock's veterinary hospital yesterday. It belonged to a family residing on Ivy street. No one is known to have been bitten. The animal's head was sent to the state laboratory in Los Angeles for rabies investigation.

Herrick of Oklahoma
Blanton from Texas
Buildings Going Up!
Belt Bus Line Service

By Gil A. Cowan

FROM Oklahoma comes a news dispatch which should shock the nation. In what is said to be a letter from Congressman Manuel Herrick, a resident of Perry, this "representative of the people" says:

"I seem to be the most Popular member of congress Every Body I meet says that I am the only member who has Introduced eny legislation in the intrest of the Common people and that they hope It will pass. The fourth coming Rail Road Strike is going to make a national figure out of me on account of standerized wage and comoditys bill and every Body thinks that it is a shame that the yellow papers should a slandered me and Libeled me they waye that they did and hopes that I get heavy damidges."

That is only part of a letter which the congressman implored friends to have published in the Perry papers. In another paragraph he says his enemies will "kick me into the White House." Comment really is unnecessary. Let the wording of the letter speak for itself.

Texas also has something to consider in the way of congressional representation. Thomas L. Blanton, vitrolic member, whose words have been quoted largely in the interests of corporations, escaped expulsion yesterday by only eight votes and suffered the censure of the house which was couched in the severest terms. After hearing the excoriation he collapsed, pitching headlong to the marble floor.

It is set forth in the reprimand that Mr. Blanton inserted in the Congressional Record foul and obscene matter "and that disgusting matter, which could not have been circulated through the mails in any other publication without crime, was transmitted to thousands of homes and libraries throughout the country, to be read by men and women, and worst of all, by children, whose prurient curiosity would be excited by it."

Now for something about Glendale. The Glendale Evening News office is situated in the center of building activity. Cement men, plasterers, brick masons, carpenters, contractors and architects swarm around like bees with three buildings under way on Brand boulevard between Broadway and Harvard street.

The steam shovel at Broadway and Glendale avenue is attracting a share of attention, too, as it is digging out dirt to make way for the Ambrosini hotel. On North Brand, between Wilson and California avenues, they are unloading material for the Lawson and Parker buildings, while the Ralphs Brothers are busy with plans for their store building at the corner of Broadway and Orange.

At Doran street and at Chestnut street other business blocks are being rushed to completion—a really interesting lot of work going on in this fast-growing city.

In the march of progress the Pacific Electric railroad company sees the value of motorbusses and is installing the first belt line in Glendale for the benefit of those people who reside several blocks away from steel arteries of transportation.

A survey of the city has shown the engineers of the company that this one line will not be enough and the others will be established as soon as necessary arrangements can be made. It is understood that transfers will be issued and the busses conducted on a schedule that will connect with incoming and outgoing trains.

That is what residents will hail as real service. Details of this improvement will be found in the news columns. You will be interested to know how the Pacific Electric is going to care for you!

Mrs. Arthur Owen Is Given Surprise Party

Miss Marion Gamble and mother, Mrs. W. S. Gamble, were hostesses at a surprise shower given last night in honor of Mrs. Arthur Owen, formerly Miss Beatrice Robinson, and who was just recently married. The guests assembled first at the Gamble residence. In the meantime Mr. Owen and wife went for an automobile ride and the guests took possession of their home at 537 East Lomita avenue during their absence. When they returned they found a jolly group of young people and a large number of miscellaneous gifts awaiting them.

Bouquets of pink and white carnations and pink pom-pom chrysanthemums had transformed their home. The dining table was also decorated with crocheted nut baskets tied with pink tulle, which had been made for favors by Miss Gamble and her mother. Refreshments of ice cream, cake, candies and nuts were served.

During the evening the young folks amused themselves by playing "pit," prize for which was a crocheted towel, which was won by Miss Gamble, who, in turn, presented it to Mrs. Owen. Later in the evening dancing was enjoyed.

The invited guests were Mrs. J. W. Dutton, Mrs. Alice Brandstetter, Mrs. Ronald DeRiemer, Miss Lucy Welch, Miss Alma Pardon, Miss Dorothy Danner, Miss Irmagene Creary, Miss Dorothy McGinnis, Mrs. Owen, Sr., Miss Edna Meyers, Mrs. Katherine Wainer and Mrs. May Blatt of Los Angeles, Miss Martha Meyer of Santa Monica, the guest of honor, Mrs. Arthur Owen, and the hostesses, Miss Marion Gamble and mother, Mrs. W. S. Gamble.

The average man does just as many queer things when he isn't in love as when he is, but they are less conspicuous.

FOOTBALL BATTLES OF IMPORTANCE FOR SATURDAY

Penn State's Great Team and Georgia Tech to Contest; Harvard Meets Centre

By JACK VEIOCK
Written for International News Service

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—A Nittany lion from the wilds of Pennsylvania came prowling into New York today.

About the same time a Golden Tornado from 'way down in Georgia' swept into the big town, bent on blowing the leonine intruder off Manhattan isle.

The Nittany Lion is Penn State's great football team; the Tornado is the gridiron machine of Georgia Tech. The two are scheduled to clash at the Polo grounds tomorrow afternoon and the game promises to be one of the greatest of the current season.

The rival squads arrived on special trains accompanied by coaches, trainers and rooters. This afternoon they were scheduled to hold signal drills in the big Brush stadium after which the rival pigskin chasers were to be bundled off to their hotels to rest up for the battle.

Speculation as to the result of the game held the attention of the football public in general today and interest is so keen that a crowd of more than 30,000 is expected to witness the contest.

Old General Consensus, authority, opines that the game will be close and spectacular.

Plenty of Thrills Due

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Three games that have bearing upon Big Ten championship and two battles in which Big Ten teams will face formidable rivals from outside the conference are on the gridiron card for tomorrow. Thrills in plenty are promised thousands of football fans who will flock to the feature games.

Much interest is being displayed in the clash at Chicago between Stagg's Tiger-Tamers and the University of Colorado eleven. Since its victory over Princeton, the Chicago team has gained thousands of rabid partisans who expect the Maroons to walk roughshod over the Colorado outfit.

Indiana and Notre Dame will provide the feature card for Indiana fans. Always keen rivals, these two elevens are expected to stage a memorable battle.

In the strictly Big Ten games, the Illinois-Michigan battle at Urbana will be watched with interest. Illinois already has suffered two defeats in the conference race and will not relish another.

"Homecoming Day" at the University of Wisconsin will see the Badgers pitted against the Minnesota eleven. Although a vastly improved machine from its early season showing, the Gophers are not expected to tumble the smooth working Wisconsin aggregation out of the conference race.

Iowa, which is pointing toward a championship, will meet Purdue at Lafayette.

Harvard Meets Centre

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 28.—With odds remaining at 3 to 1 today that Harvard whips Centre, the amount of money wagered was far from indicating the intense interest being taken in Saturday's contest.

The Centre faction is unanimous in declaring the Crimson will be punished for its 31 to 14 victory of last year. Harvard supporters reply that Saturday's game will be just a bit of practice for the Princeton and Yale clashes.

Chinese are the most satisfactory bank depositors, according to a Chicago banker. They have the largest average accounts, and the bank never has any trouble or controversy with any of them. They ask no favors that cannot be granted to the bank's advantage and work hard and save their money.

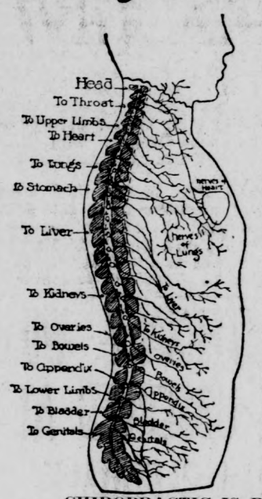
Why Am I Sick?



Is a question asked by many, and rarely is a logical answer given. "The causes of disease have been attributed to heredity, climate, altitude, weather, occupation, food, water, contagion, dogs, cats, rats, fleas, etc. Still all do not suffer alike under like conditions, while some do not suffer at all.

"We then hear that thread-worn story: 'He must have had a pre-disposition toward it or he would not have contracted it.'

"WHAT CAUSED THE PRE-DISPOSITION?

"Answer that question and we will arrive at the real cause of disease.

"The people in general are accepting advanced ideas and realize that they are living in an age of rapid progress, wherein the most startling things are being accomplished, not the least of which is the Science which deals with disease from the standpoint of cause."

RETURN FROM HUNT INTO NORTH PART OF CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Mellus Back From Outing; Five Weeks Hunting and Fishing

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Mellus of 355 West Lexington Drive returned Wednesday night from a five weeks' automobile and hunting trip in the northern part of the state.

Their first visit was at San Francisco, where they stayed a week. From there they motored to Sacramento, where Mr. Mellus went duck shooting. As the weather was so warm they did not spend much time there, but went on up to Camp Connell as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Newbert, the former of whom is the president of the fish and game commission of the state of California. Camp Connell is about five miles from Hornbrook in Siskiyou county, and from there they visited a fishing club at Klamath river and caught steelhead trout weighing from three and a half to eight pounds.

On Hunt for Deer

Mr. Mellus, Ed Garratt of Alameda and Dr. Julian Waller of San Francisco then went on up into the lava beds in Modoc county where they hunted deer. Mr. Mellus happened to be the only lucky one in the party.

While Mr. Mellus was on this hunting expedition Mrs. Mellus, Mrs. Garratt and Mrs. Waller enjoyed a motor trip into Oregon. Mrs. Mellus states that the Oregon roads are splendid.

Mr. and Mrs. Mellus then went back to Sacramento for a few days and then went to Fresno as the guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Martin. They returned to Glendale last evening after an absence of five weeks.

ANNIVERSARY WILL BE OBSERVED AT THE GLENDALE

Fox Stars and Two Previews on Birthday Bill of Popular Playhouse

This is the first anniversary of the Glendale Theatre!

It was one year ago today that William A. Howe opened the magnificent playhouse on South Brand boulevard which boasts of the greatest ground floor seating capacity in southern California. Since then the improvement in music, film service and special attractions has been marked to such a degree that patronage is drawn from Pasadena, Los Angeles, Burbank and other surrounding communities.

In celebration of the day Mr. Howe, the lessee and manager, has obtained the co-operation of the Fox Film corporation and associated artists in presenting a program tonight that is equalled by none. Mayor Spencer Robinson, James M. Rhoades, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and more than 100 film luminaries will be special guests and the public is invited to "come early" as there is but one show starting at 7:30.

Two Previews on Bill

Two previews feature the film bill, one being Buck Jones in his latest production, which comes direct from the cutting room. Mr. Jones will be present in person. Jimmie Savo, another Fox star, will be seen in "Love and War."

Then as a piece de resistance the Fox Studio Players will present what is known as "All in Fun," the greatest entertainment ever seen outside of a Winter Garden revue. From the Orpheum, Poli and Keith circuits the following whirlwind comedians, who are now in pictures and residents of Los Angeles, will take part:

See These Stars

Chester Conklin, Jimmie Savo, Monte Brice, Slim Summerville, James Morton, Nick Copeland, Roy Ingraham, Coleman Goetz, Charles Dorety, James Finlayson and Gil Wells. With this wonderful array of stars lending their aid to Mr. Howe's efforts, there is no question but what the house will be packed.

For those who are so unfortunate as not to get in, there is solace in the fact that a big vaudeville show is coming tomorrow on the Bert Levey coast-to-coast circuit. Early & Leight, who have grown plump laughing with their audiences, are one of the five headline acts, opening at the matinee.

ARCHITECT OPENS OFFICE

Harold D. Charlton who has been associated as designer with the Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber company, has leased an office from the Hart Realty company and after November 1 will be found at 113 East Broadway. Mr. Charlton has had much experience in architectural work, and has recently completed drawings for local clients and those from other cities, among his work being a set of plans for a large dwelling at Santa Barbara.

SAYS BUSINESS IS GOOD

H. T. Stevens, proprietor of a paint store at 219½ East Broadway, says "business is coming along fine and getting better all the time."

TWO LEAGUE GAMES IN THREE DAYS WON BY LOCALS

Mighty Midgets of Glendale High School Squad Take Alhambra Into Camp

Winning two league games in three days is the unique feat accomplished by the lightweight team of the Glendale high school, their steam roller act on the Alhambra midgets yesterday afternoon marking the second victory of the Reds and Blacks within that short period. Yesterday's contest, which was played on the local gridiron, ended with the score standing 34 to 0, and the Alhambrans being saved from a larger score by the timely blowing of the timer's whistle.

With four games already tucked safely under his vest Coach Howard Butterfield now has his band of whirlwind pigskinners within a single game of the Central league championship. Their final game will be held on the local gridiron Tuesday of next week. If this game is won there will be one more pennant hanging on the walls of the G. U. H. S. auditorium.

Marked Improvement

The game showed what a rapid and marvelous improvement the locals have made since the opening of the season, when they defeated the same team by the comparatively close score of 14 to 0. It is now generally conceded by the opposing coaches in the circuit that Glendale will be the team representing the Central league in the southern California championship finals.

The contest was a walkaway for Glendale, practically all of the play being held in Alhambra's end of the field. So efficient was the defense of Butterfield's warriors that their opponents only made first downs three times, two of these being in the last quarter after half of the line had been substituted with second string players. On the other hand, the forward wall was every bit as good when the locals were in possession of the ball as when they were on the defensive. Holes were made through the Blue and Gold line at random, permitting the Glendale backs to play ring around their opponents.

How They Lined Up

Of the five touchdowns made by Glendale, Butts crossed the line twice, with Gingery, Horri and Shuler accounting for the other three. All were made as a result of straight football except that of Horri, who caught a pretty twenty-five yard pass from Gingery for a score in the third period.

Alhambra—West, left end; Steinwehr, left tackle; Yamagato, left guard; Kingman, center; Fox, right guard; Willetts, right tackle; Page, right end; Rohn, quarter; Ritter and Allen, halves; Burton, full.

I Mean to Be Fair to Arthur Burch, So Mrs. Obenchain Says

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28.—Madalynne Obenchain, offered immunity by District Attorney Woolwine if she agreed to testify against Arthur C. Burch, indicted with her for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, announced today that although she now has no personal friendship for Burch she will "play fair" with him.

"I mean to be fair with Arthur Burch despite the fact that he has ceased to be my friend," Mrs. Obenchain said. "I will not appear as a witness at his trial next week, either for the prosecution or defense, unless I am advised to do so by my attorneys.

"I do not mean to intimate now that I have any evidence indicating he is guilty. Probably I know of circumstances, innocent ones, that might be twisted and distorted against him. It would be utterly unfair for me to state the things, although it might win me my freedom."

Woolwine's offer of immunity to Mrs. Obenchain was made late last night following the revelation of the final break between her and Burch as friends.

Mrs. Obenchain, however, refused Woolwine's offer to visit his ofice. She declared she would not meet the district attorney unless her attorney, Charles E. Erbstein, the Chicago lawyer whom Woolwine attacked in an effort to prevent his admission to practice in local courts, was present.

District attorney Woolwine stated he had nothing to say concerning his invitation to Mrs. Obenchain to confer with him in his office. An emissary from Woolwine visited the woman at the jail and told her the district attorney desired to talk with her at his office. Without consulting either Erbstein, or Warren Williams of his divorced wife's legal staff, Ralph R. Obenchain went to Woolwine's office.

When Obenchain returned to the jail he confirmed the report that Woolwine wanted to see her. After a consultation with Erbstein, Mrs. Obenchain announced she would refuse to meet Woolwine unless the Chicago attorney was present. To this the district attorney would not agree.

ELECTRICITY BOOKS ARE RELEASED AT CITY LIBRARY

Volumes of Much Interest to Boys on List; Girls, Too, Offered New Reading

Of especial interest to boys are the books on electricity which are included in those which have been released for distribution during the past week in the young folks' department of the public library on Harvard street. Other books will appeal to the girls. Those which have been released include the following:

"The Book of Electricity," by A. Frederick Collins, written to conform to the tests of the Boy Scouts.

"The Boy Electrician," by Alfred P. Morgan. Practical pans for electrical apparatus for work and play, with an explanation of the principles of every-day electricity.

"The Romance of Modern Electricity," by Charles R. Gibson. Describing in non-technical language what is known about electricity and many of its interesting applications.

"Principles of Football," by John W. Heisman.

"Basket Ball," by Wardlaw and Morrison. A handbook for coaches and players.

Stories About Birds

"Bird Stories," by Edith M. Patch. a volume of very interesting stories of birds and their habits.

"The Owl and the Bobolink," by Emma C. Dowd. A book of verse for little folks.

"Language and Composition," Book 2, by McFadden and Ferguson.

"American History Stories," by Mara L. Pratt.

"The Book of Cowboys," by Francis Rolt-Wheeler. The true story of cowboy days, describing the causes which brought about this vivid type of frontier life and which led to its extinction.

Saturday afternoon of this week Miss Leone Shattuck, who is in charge of the young folks' department, will tell stories appropriate to the Halloween season.

MANY DIE IN CIVIL WAR

BERLIN, Oct. 28.—Four hundred soldiers were killed and more than 1000 were wounded in the battle at Komorn between Hungarian nationalist troops and royalists supporting former Emperor Charles, said a dispatch from Budapest. The fight took place Sunday and marked the defeat of Charles' monarchist hopes.

DRY CHIEF GIVES HIS VIEWS

ROBERT D. GENTRY'S WAR RECORD ONE OF EXCELLENCE

Remarkable History Made by Soldier; Then He Becomes One of U. S. Sailors

Robert D. Gentry of Savannah, Georgia, is the guest this week of his uncle, J. N. McGillis, of 1003 East Lomita avenue. He possesses a remarkable war record—in fact, a record that is equalled by but few men.

Early in 1915 he enlisted with the "regulars," and was connected with the Pershing expedition in Mexico at the time this country declared war on Germany. He went "across" with the first units, and was a member of the famous "First Division," which earned the well-known slogan—"First to go—First to fight—Last to come back." For nearly two years Sergeant Gentry was in almost continuous fighting where the battles were the most furious. His regiment sustained the appalling loss of 110 per cent in killed and wounded.

Enlists in Navy

Once Gentry was quite seriously gassed, but returned to his post in the front ranks. He saw active service in France and Belgium, and for some six months after the Armistice was signed was stationed in Germany. After the great struggle had been fought and won Sergeant Gentry remained in civil life but a short time when he again entered the service of his country, enlisting in the navy, and has since been cruising in Pacific waters, until he received his discharge a few days ago in San Diego. While in the service Gentry had the sad misfortune to lose both parents.

After a visit to a brother, who is attending a college in Nashville, Gentry will re-enter business in civilian ranks in his native state—Georgia.

22 SAILORS ARE DROWNED

MADRID, Oct. 28.—Twenty-two sailors were drowned when the Spanish steamer Terre Deloro was wrecked off the Balearic islands.

BIG NATIONAL RESERVOIR

PHILADELPHIA—This city is known in "wet" circles as one of the "national reservoirs" of the bootlegging industry. Price lists of booze are freely circulated and delivery can be obtained within three or four days for case goods, and even less for small quantities. Drinks can be purchased in almost any saloon, and the restaurants do a fair business. Motor-truck fleets of the liquor syndicates arrive and depart with great regularity. The seizures made by the enforcement officials are regarded as trivial by those acquainted with the situation. A shake-up of the local prohibition bureau has been ordered from Washington.

Great Campaign of Hostility Directed on British Premier

By EARLE C. REEVES
Written for International News Service

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The greatest campaign of hostility directed against Premier Lloyd George since he took the post of prime minister in December, 1916, is under way today, engineered by a Tory bloc in the house of commons.

The Unionist campaign against the premier is said to have the following for its chief objectives:

First—Breaking down of the Irish peace conference and the precipitating of a general election wth Ireland as the main issue.

Second — Preventing the government from giving independence to Egypt.

Third—Preventing the premier from attending the Washington conference in person.

The resolution proposed by forty Unionist members of commons, censuring the premier for the course he has adopted towards Irish peace, will be up for a vote Monday. If it is rejected the premier will accept the result as a vote of approval. If the resolution should be adopted it would mean a lack of confidence in the premier. The political adherents of the premier believe the resolution will be completely snowed under, getting only a negligible number of votes.

The peace negotiations between the Sinn Feiners and the British at the premier's official residence have been postponed until after the resolution of censure is acted upon by commons.

The premier is said to have welcomed the Unionist attack against him. He believes that it will enable him to secure more concessions from the Sinn Feiners than he could have hoped otherwise to get.

The main committee of the British peace delegation conferred and it was understood that the members discussed Ulster.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MAKES REPLY TO DR. H. C. FUNK

Quotations Are Given, Also Other Facts in Answer to Recent Sermon

In The Glendale Evening News last Monday appeared extracts from a sermon by Dr. H. C. Funk, pastor of the First English Lutheran church of Glendale, in which he made reference to Christian Science. Following is a statement from J. N. Van Patton, of the Committee on Publication of the Christian Science organization:

Were the Lutheran pastor's remarks, as published, the correct teachings of Christian Science, no Christian Scientist could agree with him that there was even a single "element of truth" in it.

In fact, it would seem quite obvious to one not conversant with Christian Science, that if any doctrine taught "breathing impure air, eating poisonous food, living a wrong life," there must be something radically wrong with the viewpoint which professed to find any truth in it at all.

To honestly misunderstand the meaning of an abstruse text is the liability of any superficial reader. But it would seem to require considerable effort to mis-apprehend Mrs. Eddy's teaching on page 259 of Science and Health with Key to The Scriptures, "Vibration is not intelligence; hence it is not a creator." In other words, vibration can neither create, recreate or regenerate. This can hardly be said to confirm the pastor's view.

Only God Has Power

On the contrary, Christian Science maintains that all the beliefs of vibratory tuning in the world will never have anything to do with regeneration. What could be clearer than the text on page nine of Mrs. Eddy's Message of 1901, "Christian Science shows plainly that God is the only generating or regenerating power."

The cures of clergymen cited as apparently performed through mental suggestion cannot be paralleled with the wholly spiritual healing of Christian Scence, whch places no dependence on any of the processes of the human or "carnal mind" as St. Paul has it. But, at their best, if these clerical healings have been limited in their scope, as the pastor says they should be, to certain classes of nervous ailments only, how are they more remarkable than Mrs. Eddy's demonstrations? She has healed the very diseases cancer, tumor, tuberculosis, diphtheria, etc., which he relegates to the doctors in the face of the Psalmist's blessed assurance of a God "who healeth all thy diseases."

That this demonstration was not limited to Mrs. Eddy, and that all manner of disease is being healed today through the understanding which Christian Science gives of the practical application of the Scriptural teachings, is a matter of common knowledge to the average well-informed individual. It seems rather unnecessary to inform the readers of this paper that authenticated cases are readily available. But if scepticism or lack of information should interpose a doubt or disbelief, a visit to any Christian Science Wednesday evening testimonial meeting will give both enlightenment and conviction.

Life Is Open Book

Mrs. Eddy's life is an open book, whose pages have been searched with the microscope of hatred and persecution in a futile effort to read some defaming circumstance between the lines of a consistent record of a beautiful Christian life.

The persecutions and final triumph of that great Christian, Martin Luther, should make us rather chary of applying to others the lash of intolerance and bigotry.

If, instead of the recognized authorities, the attacks of those who have been thoroughly discredited are to be accepted for the facts of Mrs. Eddy's life, it is questionable whether any favorable evidence would carry conviction. But a disinterested press report recites impartially how one of the ocurrences was understood at that time by all those concerned, and it may also well serve to illustrate the nature of all the present animadversions. The following from the Lynn Reporter of February 3, 1866, "Mrs. Mary Patterson fell upon the ice near the corner of Market and Oxford streets on Thursday evening and was severely injured. She was taken up in an insensible condition and carried into the residence of S. M. Bubier, Esq., nearby. Dr. Cushing, who was called, found her injuries to be internal and of a severe nature, inducing spasms and internal suffering. She was removed to her home in Swampscott yesterday, though in a very critical condition."

How far the analysis of the meaning of the word "save" in the text of James has been carried is a matter of some conjecture. To aver that it does not include the exact definition "heal" is incorrect. Strong's Concordance gives the meaning of the Greek word in that text as "to deliver, to protect, heal."

However, the point raised is illuminating, and perhaps no better indication is needed to prove an unfortunate misinterpretation of Christian Science, for after the pastor has claimed healing for all the churches, he endeavors to prove by the Scriptures that it cannot be done.

Sincerely yours,
J. N. VAN PATTON,
Committee on Publication.

THE GAY DECEIVER

"That's what Helen thought, too; but he still continues to buy his shoes by the pair."

S. BERMAN BUILDING READY; OCCUPIED BY THREE LINES

Pioneer Tailor, Barber Shop and Realty Firm Fill New Business Block

The Berman Building, 406-408-410 South Brand boulevard, is now practically finished and an announcement of the opening of the three lines of business located in the new structure appears elsewhere in The Glendale Evening News.

S. Berman, owner and builder, has located his tailoring establishment in the south room of the building and he announces that he will be ready for business Saturday.

The front part of the establishment is fitted for displaying clothing samples and the arrangement of shelves and mirrors makes it a very attractive and convenient place for the tailoring trade.

S. Berman has been a resident of Glendale for over ten years. He came here in June, 1911, and established in business as a merchant tailor at 122 North Brand boulevard where he was located until his recent move to 410 South Brand boulevard. Mr. Berman has gained a large patronage through his tailoring business and he is now located where his trade should have added facilities for growth.

Here's Unique Feature

Mr. Berman points one unique feature in connection with the construction, ownership, and occupancy of the building. He said:

"The building was practically constructed by Elks, is owned by an Elk, and is occupied by Elks. And in the construction of the building I want to say that all the contractors gave me more than they agreed. I am well pleased with all."

The room at 408 has been leased to E. E. Moniot, who will conduct a first-class barber shop, known as "Eddie's Shop." Two chairs are installed in the shop and there is room for the installation of more. First-class fixtures and equipment are provided in the place and Mr. Moniot believes that he will be given a liberal patronage in his new establishment.

Plumbing is now practically completed and Mr. Moniot announces that his shop will be opened the first of November.

Sees Glendale Grow

A realty office at 406 in the Berman Building has been opened by H. C. Seaman and G. S. Hancock, both of 647 North Howard street. Both are old residents of Glendale, who have watched the city develop. Mr. Seaman came here sixteen years ago and Mr. Hancock first came here eight years ago. Both are loyal boosters of Glendale and are enthused over the location of their realty office. Mr. Seaman said:

"Glendale had just begun to use electricity when I came here sixteen years ago. I have watched the city grow and I firmly believe in its future. That bungalow you see across the street from this office, I built eight years ago.

"Above all we are enthused over our location. It's a fine new building, modern in every particular, and is situated in a fast growing business section of Glendale."

Quick Action on Excavation for New Hotel Construction

About ten days will be required to complete excavating for the Ambrosini hotel at the northeast corner of East Broadway and Glendale avenue, states Anthony Ambrosini, who added that construction would begin just as soon as the steam shovel finished its work.

At the rate of four shovels making a truck load, the work is progressing very rapidly and the first half day resulted in a large area being scooped out in the northeast corner of the site.

Mr. Ambrosini is watching the progress of the work with much gratification as it has been his wish for some time to begin construction on the six-story building, and it is his intention to complete half of the structure by Christmas, if possible.

Tries to Kill Her Children Because of Love, Woman Claims

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 28.—Florence and Addie Gause, aged 9 and 19, respectively, are dying in Charity hospital at Slidell and their mother is under arrest charged with attempted murder. Mrs. Gause is believed to be insane. She has been removed to Covington for examination.

"I wanted to kill them because I loved them," declared the mother. "We were without food and I could not bear to see them suffer. I planned to kill myself after killing my girls, but my nerve failed me at the last minute."

WHITE STAR LINE GROWS

LONDON—By their purchase of the 35,000-ton German ship Columbus, the White Star Line continues to strengthen its Southampton-New York service. By next summer the White Star will have the Majestic (56,000 tons), Olympic (46,000 tons), and Columbus (35,000 tons) running in the keenest competition with the Cunard Berengaria (52,000 tons). Aquitania (45,000 tons) and Mauretania (30,000 tons), and it is safe to say that never was there such a race of giants.

ALL STAR ACTS ON T. D. & L. BILL FOR TODAY

Hendrix-Bell Isle Co. Present 'School Days'; Ed Blondell in 'Boy From Home'

One of the best vaudeville programs ever presented in this city will be seen at the T. D. L. theatre, this afternoon and tonight. Meiklejohn & Dunn have booked dozens of vaudeville shows in Glendale, but they are positive that this show is quite the best that they have ever assembled to appear here. Each of the acts that make up this wonderful bill has been a headliner in the largest theatres of Los Angeles.

The Hendrix-Bell Isle company have an act entitled, "School Days," that has played the biggest and best theatres throughout the country. "School Days" will please everyone who has ever attended school. There are eight comedians in this sketch and each one amuses in some special way.

Look Who's Here

That monarch of mirth, Ed Blondel, who is a Pantages star, has his own peculiar way of entertaining and with the aid of the company that appears with him in "The Boy from Home," is able to transfer his audience at a will from pathos to comedy.

It is a rare attraction, indeed, that is able to play Grauman's Million Dollar theatre more than once. The record for return engagements at this theatre is held by the Griffin Twins, juvenile entertainers, who have appeared there nineteen different weeks. The elaborate dances that the talented pair presents are all original and the costumes are quite as novel.

In addition to the two surprise acts on the same bill there will be shown the feature photoplay, Dorothy Dalton, in "Behind Masks," which is full of intrigue and daring. Another episode of that wonder serial, "Miracles of the Jungles," also will be shown.

Small Riot Occurs When Prisoners Sing at Verdict of Jury

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 28.—A near riot was precipitated in district court here when six alleged I. W. W. members were found guilty of criminal syndicalism by a jury which had debated the issue all night.

Immediately the verdict was read the six accused men stood, as if by prearranged signal, and began singing "Behind the cold gray bars." They were joined by spectator sympathizers and bedlam reigned in the courtroom. Bailiffs rushed in and manacled the defendants, rushing them from the courtroom.

The convicted men were arrested at a meeting called here two months ago to secure amnesty for "political prisoners."

Expect Final Vote on Compromise Tax Bill in Few Days

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 28.—Committed to the repeal of the excess profit and the higher income surtaxes, the Republican majority in the Senate moved steadily on today toward the final passage of the pending compromise tax bill, which Republican and Democratic leaders agreed probably would come by the end of this or the early part of next week.

Disposition of the disputed normal corporation income tax section of the bill by unanimous consent agreement will leave but one or two of its controversial features to be acted upon.

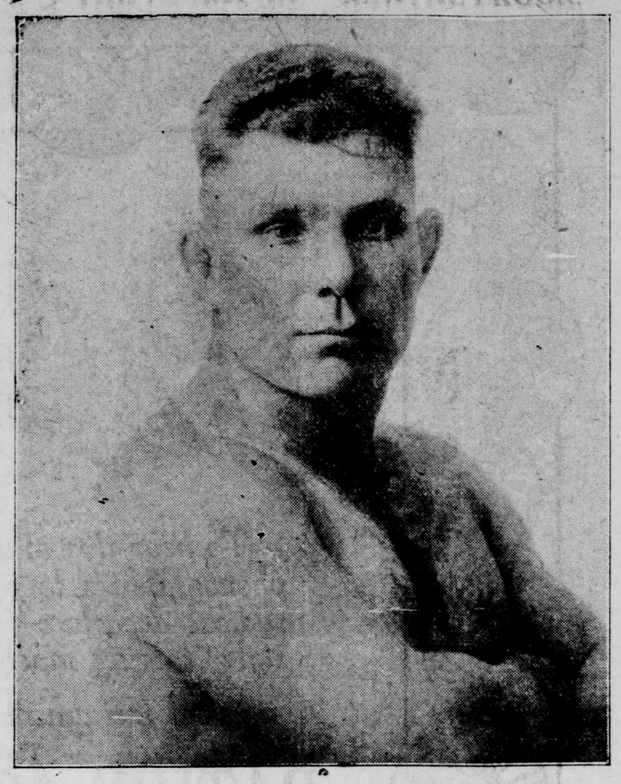
HACKENSCHMIDT, GLENDALE WRESTLER TO TAKE PART IN CARNIVAL PROGRAM



JOHN (YOUNG) HACKENSCHMIDT

Who will wrestle with A. Matzetti during the carnival week being staged by Glendale American Legion.

One of the big features of the Armistice Week celebration here will be the wrestling and boxing tournament promoted by Glendale American Legion Post, No. 127, for Friday night, November 11. This show will be for the benefit of the building fund.

Fortunately for the Legionnaires they do not have to go far for the best talent to be obtained. John (Young) Hackenschmidt, who has a nation-wide reputation for wrestling, is a resident of Glendale. He has been signed for a tussle with A. Matzetti of Hollywood. Other numbers on the big card are to be announced later.

SPORTS CHATTER

By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

"Like father like son," to date at least, has not been the case with competitive athletes. There have been many very great stars in all lines of sport during years past, but never have the sons of these champions shone in the spot light of laurel wreaths.

Many sons—and daughters of champions too—have tried to emulate the performances of their parents, but their ability has never shown in the same class with the performances of their sires. In other words, athletic prowess is not hereditary. The progeny of famous stars of the diamond, of the athletic track, of the swimming pools, of the golf links, of the tennis courts and what not, have yet to prove to the world they are as great as their champion fathers before them.

The nearest approach to this son-father greatness is the case of Bernie Wefers, Jr., the sprinter of the New York A. C. Bernie Wefers, Sr., was the first man to run the 220 yards in 21 1-5 seconds which record stood until Charlie Paddock came along and cracked it. Bernie, Jr., is now just about in his prime and his dad is doing all he can to have Bernie, Jr., regain the lost prestige of that world's record for the Wefers family. To date, however, it does not look as though the boy can do the job, though he is the outstanding example of the near approach to father's greatness, though he is not as great.

There are many sons of famous athletic fathers endeavoring to emulate their dads, and there are many sons of these famous sires, yet too young to perform, which have set their minds on outdoing the performances of their fathers. Ty Cobb, for example, has a couple of fine boys who will try to outdo the "Georgia Peach." Willie Hoppo, the billiard player, has a youthful son whom he intends to groom for a champion.

In the tennis world Miss May Sutton, now Mrs. Tom Bundy—the latter once an American Davis cup member—and both National champions, have sons and daughters who will be taught tennis, and that they will get the best of instruction is self-evident from the ability of their parent coaches. Just whether the Sutton-Bundy children will hoodwink precedent and become world-famous like pa and ma remains to be seen.

Some years ago one of the greatest sprinters on the Pacific coast was Pete Gerhardt of the San Francisco Olympic club. Pete was one of the best on the coast, a national champion and U. S. representative at the Stockholm Olympic games. Pete has a son, Weston. The lad is a good sprinter, but will never approach the ability of his dad.

And so it goes. Sons and daughters of famous athletes always have the desire and inclination to play or participate in the games their parents were famous at. They always have healthy bodies, but as champions like their parents there has yet to be produced a real champion product of the same caliber as father or mother was.

Peace Proposals by Union Coal Workers Scored by Operators

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 28.—"Under no circumstances will the West Virginia coal operators have anything whatever to do with the United Mine Workers," counsel for the operators declared today in flatly rejecting the peace proposals offered by Philip Murray, vice-president of the union organization, before the Senate committee investigating the civil war in the west Virginia coal fields.

As spokesman, Zachary Taylor Vinson served notice that the operators' refusal to recognize the union organizations' "right to interfere" in the west Virginia fields" is absolutely unchanged.

"Those connected with the United Mine Workers are not in our employ," Vinson said. "We have no connection with them or their organization and we will not meet or consult with them about the difficulties facing us in West Virginia."

Don Chafin, sherff of Logan county, West Virginia, and a Central figure in the mine warfare in West Virginia, sought to justify the employment of deputy sheriffs on the private payrolls of the operators as the "only way law and order can be maintained down there."

He testified that the operators had spent $46,000 during the past year in paying deputy sheriffs "to preserve order."

When waiting for a man, you wait until he comes. When waiting for a woman, you wait to see if she comes at all.

The WORLD OVER

By FRANKLIN B. MORSE.
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—With the return of the International polo trophy to this country, there has been a marked revival of interest in the game in this section of the country as evidenced by the plans already being made by the American Polo association and clubs for the resumption of play next spring. Of course, it is assumed that the Englishmen will lose no time in challenging for the cup, if not next year, then the year following.

Those who have the interests of the game at heart have not so soon forgotten the predicament the Americans were placed in last year in the matter of getting mounts for the American team which resulted in a national appeal being made for ponies. That the response was immediate and heartwhole is best evidenced in the result of the matches. All sections of the country came to the rescue, and it is a matter of record that the Pacific coast ponies cut a considerable figure in the events that followed.

As a result "preparedness" is the motto that has been tacked on the wall and on which all eyes constantly are focussed. It is well understood that, in order to maintain its supremacy, the United States cannot expect to pull inself together by a repetition of the eleventh hour efforts. The work of preparedness must be in constant operation.

Particularly is this the case with ponies which have to undergo a rigid course of training to properly prepare them to engage in contests. It is an open secret here that connections are in the making with the Pacific Coast points in the matter of horseflesh and Coronado, Calif., which is one of the headquarters of the game on the far slope of the Sierras, may be made a headquarters in the matter of mounts. The Coronado Country club near San Diego is admirably adapted for this purpose.

Just what plans will be devised it is still too early to tell, but it is only a question of time when a regular and consistent campaign will be entered into.

Another point that is receiving no little attention here, is that of attempting to popularize the game as far as the public is concerned. It is pointed out that polo is quite as lively, exciting and fascinating a game to watch as baseball and the reason the American public knows so little concerning it is the result of a regime of exclusiveness or seclusiveness that has been adopted by the clubs which have opened their doors only for the admittance of their limited memberships.

It is recognized, or gradually becoming so, that if the backing and interest of the American public is to be had, it only can be accomplished by permitting them the opportunity to cultivate this interest by viewing the contests.

STRICT NEUTRALITY FOR LEGION MEN, ORDERS GIVEN

James F. McBride, Adjutant of Local Post, Receives Official Bulletin

James F. McBryde, adjutant of Glendale Post No. 127 of the American Legion, is in receipt of a special bulletin, recently made public through the office of State Department Adjutant Morgan Keaton, definitely stating the attitude of the ex-service men's organization regarding the industrial conditions throughout the country. The object of the announcement is to impress upon the minds of the Legionnaires and the public at large the fact that the Legion has taken an unalterable and neutral stand on the question.

Following is a resume of the communication, which was addressed to the Post officers and executive committee:

Policies of Legion

"In view of the unsettled conditions in the industrial life of our country at the present time, it is only fitting that your attention be called to the policies of the American Legion as laid down by our Past National Commander D'Olier—'The attitude of the American Legion toward organized labor is exactly the same as its attitude toward all groups of American citizens who are interested in a square deal for all, in the maintenance of law and order and the protection of the institutions handed down to us by our forefathers.'

"The members of Organized Labor are patriotic citizens and the members of the American Legion are patriotic citizens who have proven their patriotism and loyalty. Consequently on the purposes of the American Legion, both they and we are in accord.

Strictest Neutrality

"All Legionnaires are cautioned to adhere to our policy of the strictest neutrality in any industrial controversy. The eyes of the entire country are upon the Legion today in such matters. Many of our most loyal members constitute members on both sides of the industrial strife. It is their inherent right as individuals and we have no control over their acts. But it must be clearly understood that these allegiances are the acts of individuals and not the acts or the policies of the American Legion."

The foregoing action was taken to protect the Legion from being blamed for any questionable actions made by any individual member regarding the industrial situation.

In The Referee's Corner

By JACK VEIOCK
International News Sporting Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Champion Jack Dempsey has taken a headlong flop into vaudeville. The big fellow had to choose between the footlights and idleness. His contract will keep him busy twenty weeks.

Dempsey's action means that he does not expect to defend his title before late in the winter or early next spring. Well, he has nobody to defend it against, at that. At least, not right now. He has disposed of every contender he has met. They're all through, though there is a chance that Wizard may really try another comeback.

Meanwhile Eddie Kane is grooming Tommy Gibbons for a crack at the Dempsey toga about next Fourth of July.

Tommy is being built up for Dempsey. He is a sensible fellow. He didn't jump into the heavyweight division and go after the champ the first thing. He is willing to bide his time, but he'll soon be ready now. He boasted a string of sixteen straight knockouts as this was written.

During the recent world's series Gibbons and Kane came east. They combined business with pleasure. Gibbons looked like the proverbial million dollars. He's getting big, but is carrying muscle, not fat.

The two Eddies, Kane and Long, are in partnership now. They have headquarters in Chicago. A recent mail brought news that they have signed up Tommy Comiskey, of St. Paul, and Bud Taylor of Terre Haute. The former is a 150-pounder. The latter scales 112 without trouble. These lads are stable mates of Tom Gibbons, Bob Roper and Sammy and Joe Mandell, who are under Kane and Long management.

Billy Shade, who set Australia on its ears, made his eastern debut at the garden a few nights ago and drew a tough one in Fay Keiser, the Baltimore buster, though he won a judge's decision.

The pair were so evenly matched, it happened, that neither made the impression expected of him, but against two other opponents they could furnish some night of entertainment.

Bring two fighters together, or two boxers, and you are liable to stage one of those drab affairs most any time. But a fighter and a boxer—that's the dish the average fan likes to see.

Jack Rogers, who has been teaming with Dumb Dan Morgan for many a day, rises to remark that he has a good one to introduce around Gotham or any man's town in Elmer Hogan, the Michigan welterweight. Elmer is a 145-pounder and he recently won the Wolverine welterweight title by kayoing Rock Smith at Detroit.

No punch used by boxers is more consistently effective than the left hook.

Jim Corbett pointed this out when he was studying the styles of Dempsey and Carpentier before the big fight. Tom Gibbons, in his rise to heavyweight prominence, has demonstrated it time and again.

Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion, and Jack Britton, king of the welters, are strong exponents of this punch.

Johnny Curtin, a candidate for high honors in the featherweight division, is another boy who, since he found out he had a good left hand has come rapidly to the front. Curtin recently beat Chick Suggs, New England featherweight titleholder, with his left hook. Now he wants the best of 'em. And it was not so long ago that he was just boxing around, unheard of.

HOLD HIM FOR RANSOM

DENVER—Word has been received in Denver's Chinatown district that Yee Dun, owner of much property in the local "Hop Alley," has been captured by Chinese bandits and is being held for ransom, near Canton, China. Yee Dun left Denver for his native land three months ago after acquiring what his fellow countrymen here estimate as a fortune of $100,000.

Middle West Demanding Real Merchant Marine

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. — The middle west wants a strong, 100 per cent American merchant marine, President Harding was told by members of the middle west merchant marine committee, representing the Chambers of Commerce of the middle western states and the National Merchant Marine Association.

The committee called on President Harding and urged that he use his influence to bring about a re-establishment of the shipping trades routes, to be maintained by the United States shipping board until they have been placed upon a paying and permanent basis.

They asked the president to use his influence to have the shipping board adopt a definite policy with regard to the merchant marine, and particularly urged a strict enforcement of the provisions of the Jones act, so American ships can compete successfully with foreign bottoms.

They also emphasized their opposition to turning over the merchant marine to a few large companies.

The president listened with interest to the committee which had as its spokesman Malcolm Stewart of Cincinnati and said that the cabinet and the shipping board would work upon the merchant marine problem to effect a definite policy with all possible speed.

American Embassy Gets Guard, Scotland Yard

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Scotland Yard took measures to guard the American Embassy from attack by British communists, following the disclosure that George Harvey, the American Ambassador, had been receiving threatening letters for a week. Communist leaders have been in open and active preparations for a great mass meeting Sunday and a demonstration in front of the American Embassy. The demonstrators will demand the release of Niccolo Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti in the United States.

JAY WALKERS ARE BLAMED

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—"Jay walkers" who are run over by automobiles should be brought into court and fined, according to a resolution presented to the annual meeting of the National Association of Municipal Electricians, recently held here. The resolution declared, among other things, that "two-thirds of the automobile accidents that occur on the streets are the fault of pedestrians themselves who wilfully disregard traffic rules, cutting across corners and not observing signals of traffic policemen."

ICE CREAM BEING MANUFACTURED IN GLENDALE PLANT

Factory Equipped With Very Latest Machinery; Care in Sanitation Observed

The Peerless Ice Cream Products company, 109 North Glendale avenue, a factory owned and operated by two young men of Glendale, Clyde L. Morrison, 129 South Kenwood street, and Edmond G. Herring, 632½ East Broadway, is now in full operation and supplying ice cream to both local and Pasadena trade.

The factory is equipped with modern machinery installed by Mr. Morrison and Mr. Herring and has a capacity of sixty gallons an hour. Sanitation is the watchword and the proprietors are keeping open house to the public in order that everyone may visit the plant and see how the ice cream is made and the care that is exercised in making a pure product.

Demand Increasing

The proprietors state that already a liberal patronage has been accorded them by the local restaurants, confectionary shops and drug stores and the demand for Peerless ice cream is increasing steadily. Several visitors inspected the factory during the past week and the proprietors state they are expecting a larger number within the next few days.

Both proprietors are much enthused over the prospects of their venture and in commenting on the factory Mr. Herring, who has had much experience with the Carlson Ice Cream company of Denver and several Los Angeles concerns, said:

"This is strictly a Glendale factory. We buy all our cream, ice and ingredients right here in Glendale, and we want the people to pay us a visit and see just how the ice cream is made. It will be a pleasure for us to have any one inspect our plant at any time as we are proud of our place and product.

Observe Sanitation

"Sanitation is the big thing that will be observed in our factory and with that end in view we have installed the very latest in machinery that is possible to procure.

"Locally, we have already been given a good patronage besides several deliveries in Pasadena and we have had many flattering comments as to the excellent quality of our product. In addition to our wholesale trade we are prepared to furnish ice cream for parties, or any special functions. Retail deliveries will be made three times a day—at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, and at 2 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon."

PIONEER OF THREE DIFFERENT STATES RESIDENT HERE

Ezkiel McCall Has His Share of Experiences; Recently Had 92nd Birthday

Ezekiel McCall, who has just celebrated his ninety-second birthday, has had the unusual experience of being a pioneer of three different states.

Born in Old Virginia, he moved to Indiana, when very young, and lived through the most interesting years of his life.

When quite a young man he went to Florida, and was a pioneer in the orange industry, and also engaged in the furniture business.

Upon the death of his wife, thirty years ago, he came to California and engaged in business with his son-in-law, L. A. Boynton, at Ventura, where he remained for many years.

Later he came south, locating first in Los Angeles and seven years ago in Glendale.

Enters Rest Home

He has been retired for some time, and has made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Boynton, until quite recently, when he entered the rest home, conducted by Mrs. A. V. Tarling at 147 South Belmont street.

Mr. McCall has always enjoyed the best of health, and now has rosy cheeks and no wrinkles, and his hair is only tinged with grey.

Ten years ago he laid aside his glasses and enjoyed his second sight until quite recently, when his sight began to fail, and now he cannot enjoy reading, which is a great sorrow to him.

He had four children, two of whom are still living, two grandchildren and only one great grandchild, which is not living.

Congress Interested In England's Refund Plan

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 28.—News that Great Britain is planning a spectacular move on the eve of the armament conference here by announcing cancellation of the $7,000,000,000 owed her by her erstwhile Allies—evidently in the hope that such a step will move the United States to follow suit—was read with absorbing interest by officials and members of Congress.

Singularly enough, the dispatches reached Washington just as the house was taking up for immediate passage the administration bill for refunding the $11,000,000,000 foreign debt.

The bill has been sanctioned by the White House, by the Treasury Department, the House Ways and Means committee, the Senate Finance committee, by influential members of both houses and its passage is considered assured.

Members of Congress and officials declared that this was the answer of the United States to all talk of debt cancellation which is constantly emanating from the other side.

Fifty-four Stockyards In Government Control

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 — Fifty-four stockyards in almost as many cities throughout the country will come under control of the department of agriculture November 1, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace announced today. Notices to the stockyards owners were sent out today.

Beginning November 7 and continuing for two weeks, Chester Merrill, assistant to Secretary Wallace, will hold hearings at Fort Worth, Kansas City, Denver, Portland, Ore.; and Chicago, when the tentative regulations governing the stockyards, commission men and other market agencies which operate at the stockyards will be discussed.

Among the stockyards that will be posted on November 1, are: Chicago, Denver, East St. Louis, El Paso, Ft. Worth, Indianapolis, Kansas City, Milwaukee, Ogden, Oklahoma City, Omaha, Pasco, Wash., Peoria, Portland, Ore.; Pittsburg, St. Joseph, St. Paul, Salt Lake City, San Antonio, Seattle, Sioux City, Spokane and Wichita.

Cabinet Officers Try to End Oil Disputes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. — Two cabinet officers acted yesterday in an effort to end the strike of oil workers in California. Secretary of Labor Davis and Secretary of the Interior Fall held a conference with Hywell Davies, the department of labor conciliator, with this end in view.

After the conference, the two secretaries declined to comment on their plans. It is known, however, that the department of labor is having difficulty in settling the strike because the oil operators are holding out against a renewal of the agreement in effect for several years between the operators and the workers.

Under this agreement, all disputes were left to a government oil adjuster, whose finding were binding.

Thomas O'Donnell, president of the Oil Institute of America, who operates extensive oil holdings in California, has been here for several days and has held several conferences with Secretary Davis whom he will see again today.

California Dope Ring Invades Nevada, Claim

RENO, Oct. 28. — The California dope selling ring has invaded Nevada. This is the belief of federal and city officials who are fighting the traffic in drugs.

W. Watanabe, Stockton Japanese, after escaping prosecution on a federal charge, was today held by Judge Bull of the justice court for trial tomorrow under the state law prohibiting the possession of narcotic drugs. Watnabe pleaded not guilty before Judge Bull, who fixed bail at $1000 and sent him to the county jail. The extreme penalty on the charge is $1000 fine and one year in jail.

When arrested in Reno by H. Haley, federal narcotic inspector, and Patrolmen Capps and Ginnochio, Watanabe had $1000 of cocaine in his possession and, according to the police, admitted that he had sold about $100 worth that day.

Treaty With Canada Is Given Approval of U. S.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 28.—A treaty giving Canada the right to adhere to the provisions of the convention of 1899 dealing with real and personal property rights was signed by Secretary of State Hughes and Ambassador Geddes of Great Britain.

The treaty of 1899 gives the nationals of Great Britain and the United States the right to dispose of real and personal property in either country. These provisions did not extend to Canada and the pact signed today rectifies this matter.

A Big Combination Offer

JUST OUT!
R-B Pancake Flour, 20-oz. pkg. 13c, 2 for 25c
Mix with nothing but cold water.
R-B Pancake Syrup 25c
22-oz. bottle
A delicious blend of cane and maple sugars
Special Combination; Introductory Price for Both Items, 25c
Warning! This offer will be good for only ten days.

Pancake Flours cannot be made any better in the east than in the west. The eastern manufacturer has the disadvantage of having to pay a heavy freight rate, not only on the pancake flour itself, but on two containers, the carton and the case.
The ingredients of pancake flours are too well known to make the mixing of them secret. Manufacture is all in the proper blending; and after months of careful experimenting, we feel that we have found the absolutely proper blend and proportion to make as good, if not a better pancake flour than anything on the market today.
We are saving you the freight, the manufacturer's and jobber's profits, and selling you a 20-oz. package of the very best pancake flour for 13c, or 2 for 25c. And for ten days only we are making a combination offer of a package of this pancake flour, and a big 22-oz. bottle of our new maple flavored pancake syrup, both for 25c.

U. S. NEEDS LEADER GETTING PEOPLE BACK-TO-LAND

Relieving Congestion In Cities Is Problem Unemployment Conference Faces

BY J. E. JONES

Special to The Glendale Evening News.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—It will be interesting to follow the success of the scheme of the unemployment conference to "make the mayor get everybody a job." The figure of speech employed above, if used with the proper allowance for elasticity will convey the idea that the mayor of each city is supposed to lead the march of the unemployed back from idleness to work. There are over four million unemployed in this country, and President Harding's administration is straining every endeavor to prevent hunger and suffering this winter. The "soup" houses" of the winter of 1915 left harrowing horrors that will be shunned if possible in 1921-22. The conference has quite clearly pointed out the practicability of certain kinds of construction work, including public buildings and road work, that can be carried on with profit to the communities at this time; and it is insistent that the mayors of the country organize their communities and put these methods of employment in operation.

Wants Quick Action

In "the city of conversation"—as Washington has been characterized—the unemployment conference has produced considerable discussion of the "back to the land" question. The conference, itself, does not accept the view that it has any time to deal with problems of settling the land, because it wants methods that promise quick action.

Strangely enough these Iowa secretaries of agriculture—and that is where most of them seem to come from, are arraigned in opposition to opening broad new acres for farming purposes. Secretary Meredith of the Wilson cabinet, insisted that the thing to do was to farm the land that has already been opened, and to cultivate it more thoroughly. Secretary Wallace of the present cabinet, takes the same point of view. Both men are from the corn stalks of the Hawkeye state, from which also emerged "Tama Jim" Wilson, whom history regards as the dean of wisdom in the agricultural department. When men and acres are matched "Iowa plans" must be considered, even though eventually revised.

It will be remembered that during the most troublesome times of the late war Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane developed a plan to attract the returning soldiers to take up land and engage in farming. At first everybody appeared to be for Mr. Lane's scheme, and then there followed an agitation to the effect that farmers were unable to go out and work on the farms that were already running shorthanded. It is not so very clear that the young men followed this lead; but it is very clear that among the unemployed there are hundreds of thousands of ex-service men that might have been benefited by Mr. Lane's plan.

Scheme Needs Leader

In 1862 the homestead law, as we have it today, was adopted, and, following the civil war, the young men of the country joined a "back to the land" movement that made for great prosperity in the nation in succeeding years. It is believed by a great many that Mr. Lane has a great vision of the possibilities of restoring some of the rural population and activity and relieving the congestion in the cities. What he proposed to do for the returning soldiers was to place them on lands which they could purchase on easy terms, and he could make a living and gain the reworked out a plan whereby the wards of their own industry. "Back to the land" talk isn't as effective now as it was when Mr. Lane was behind the idea. The scheme needs a new and powerful leader, because it still has its appeal to thoughtful men and women. It is, however, a pretty poor substitute as an emergency measure for the "down and out" whom it is hoped to aid and assist through movements such as the unemployment conference.

Victory for Woman Suffrage In India

LONDON, Oct. 21.—For the first time in history woman suffrage has won a victory in India.

According to news received here by the International Woman Suffrage Alliance, the Legislative Council of Madras passed a resolution conferring on the women of the Madras Presidency equal franchise with men.

Only thirteen members of the council voted against the resolution and ten remained neutral, but the balance—forty-seven members — all voted solidly in favor of women receiving the franchise. The opposition came from the Mohammedan members.

The women of the states of Cochin, Travancore aand Jahawal have been enfranchised, and in Cochin women are equally eligible with men for seats on the legislative council.

The news was received here with much joy, as a symbol of the awakening of India to the value of women in the framing and administration of the laws. Much of the propaganda work was done by the Women's Indian Association of Madras, which is provisionally affiliated with the International Suffrage alliance.

A man should do everything for the woman he loves—except marry her.

Mexico Developing Artesian Water to Supply Settlements

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 21.—In addition to great irrigation projects involving the expenditure of millions upon dams and artificial lakes, Mexico is busied with the development of artesian water.

Drills owned by the Mexican government are being used in drilling wells in various places and this work will be continued until all places needing water have it. The drills were purchased in the United States and a first shipment of fifteen has been received and put into operation.

The government is drilling wells at present only in places at which water is badly needed. The idea is to help in the development of small settlements by furnishing a supply of water and also to add to the health and comfort of the residents.

Without this aid wells would not be dug, because the people in many places are too poor to meet the expense of the work and it would be impossible for them to develop water with their unaided labor.

It is believed that, as the wells multiply through the constant use of the drills, vast sections will be made prosperous and productive.

PARTY LEADERS TRY TO PREVENT NEW TAX DEFEATS

Senators Urged to Remain In Constant Attendance When Bill Is Considered

By J. BART CAMPBELL
Written for International News Service

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—In a concerted effort to prevent further defeat of pending tax legislation, Republican senators were severely admonished for "absenteeism" by Senators Lodge, of Massachusetts, the Republican leader; Curtis, of Kansas, the Republican "whip," and Penrose, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Senate Finance committee, and urged to remain in constant attendance in the senate, while the majority tax bill continues under consideration.

An amendment offered by Penrose intended to broaden the definition of corporate reorganization in the determination of the basis for computation of income taxes of reorganized corporations was adopted by a vote of 44 to 28.

Reasons for Fighting

Senator Reed of Missouri, and other Democratic senators, fought the amendment on the ground that by it corporations would be provided with a "convenient device for pumping water into their stock." Senator Jones of New Mexico, charged that the amendment would permit organizations to purchase 51 per cent of the stock of other corporations and compel consolidations.

Senator Miles Poindexter, Republican, of Washington, declared today that he will support the manufacturers' sales tax plan which Senator Reed Smoot, Republican, of Utah, is urging in the senate as a substitute for the pending compromise tax bill.

Poindexter is one of several western senators who have joined in the present "drive" for the adoption of the tax which is gaining rapid headway in the senate.

Very Badly Tangled

Senator Penrose, Republican of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Senate Finance committee, admitted today that the tax revision is so badly tangled that it is difficult to predict what its outcome will be.

Republican leaders now doubt if the tax bill will be passed by the senate finally before the middle of November.

"It is necessary to relieve business of war taxation," said Poindexter. "Everything, even to the most irksome taxes, was submitted to during the late war as a part of a patriotic duty by business and the people all along the line. Those who willingly paid their share of war taxation are now demanding a readjustment on a peace basis.

"It is, of course, necessary to find another source of taxation. In my judgment the sales tax is the only recourse which has been suggested. It will not be a burden to anyone."

'Jazz Weed' Causes Much of Mexican Crime In Southwest

By CHARLES E. HUGHES
Written for International News Service.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28.—Marihuana, a weird "jazz weed" frequently used by Mexican drug addicts is the source of much crime in the southwest, according to Inspector Fred C. Boden, of the board of pharmacy of California, who has started an unrelenting fight to curb the use of the narcotic.

"Eliminate marihuana and crime among the laboring class of Mexicans will be appreciably reduced," said Boden. "Prevent persons from planting and growing the weed and much wickedness will be spared the world.

For instance, observed Boden, a bit of marihuana placed in a drink of brandy causes the optimistic indulger to fancy that he witnesses jelly-like pulsations and Oriental wiggles in every object in his view. Street cars shake like a wicked shimmy for the marihuana smoker.

If a little marihuana is sprinkled on a tortilla as it bakes, the lowly delicacy vibrates and, it is said, sends forth weird tunes not unlike those seeping over the walls of a sultan's harem rendezvous.

In fact the lowly and mischievous weed is capable of producing so much deviltry, Boden claims, that he never overlooks a chance to pull up a plant and arrest the owner.

Hens Save Kansas Farmers From Ruin

EMPORIA, Kan., Oct. 28.—Hundreds of chickens—of the feathered variety—are not earning their salt, according to farm agents of several counties who met in Emporia. Lazy chickens should be culled, killed and eaten, the agents declared.

While the stockyards corporations are shouting at the farmer to "hold" his live stock and the farmer finding a bearish market when he does ship it in, the barnyard hen has come to the rescue of the farmer. Chickens are the real "mortgage raisers" in Kansas, the poultry men said.

Statistics show that the egg production in Kansas has increased fully one-third in the last two years.

But farmers who feed lazy hens are working a hardship on their communities and will save hundreds of dollars by getting rid of them, the county agents concluded.

The greatest mathematician in the world has never yet been able to forecast the exact result of one and one.

American Troops to Return Gradually, Is Administration Plan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. — —The American Army of Occupation in Germany will be brought home gradually as soon as ratifications of the German-American peace treaties have been exchanged, it was announced officially at the White House. The return of these troops will begin within two weeks.

Each returning transport will carry a quota of the troops and it is expected that it will be many weeks before the final troops have left the Rhine. There are 15,000 Americans now on the Rhine.

There has been some question of the legal status of the American Army of Occupation since the ratification of the German-American peace treaty, it was stated, and the administration has decided that a change in policy is necessary.

President Harding feels that to leave the American forces in Germany would be displaying an unsympathetic attitude inasmuch as it would be adding expense to that nation's already heavy burdens.

His decision to bring the troops home has been somewhat affected by the expressed desire of the German people themselves, that the forces be left there, but final decision has been made for the gradual reduction of the troops.

In accordance with the administration plan for the return of the American Army of Occupation from the Rhine, Secretary of Weeks has announced that orders have been given for the return to the United States of 126 oficers and 7,873 enlisted men. This will leave 372 officers and 5,217 enlisted men in Germany. No decision has been reached as to when these forces will be returned.

The forces ordered home will be brought back between November 15 and March 15, two transports being assigned to this work. Men having the shortest time to serve in completing their enlistment will be brought home first.

BIRTH INCREASE IS HALTED

MADISON, Wis.—Neither the present nor future generations would benefit by an increased birth rate, E. A. Ross, professor of sociology at the University of Wisconsin, told the students in an address Thursday night.

"Increased birth rate is accompanied without exception by an increased death rate," Prof. Ross said. He asserted the population of the United States was increasing rapidly, due to reduction in the death rate rather than to an increase in the birth rate. He said he no longer believes in large families. He declared child labor laws, advances in medical science and paternalistic legislation had given the white race a "longevity unequaled through the ages."

How to Select Children's Shoes

The most important thing about a shoe for a growing boy or girl is that it should conform to the natural shape of the child's foot.

Every shoe takes its shape from the last upon which it is made.

The Brown Shaping Lasts follow carefully the natural outlines of the child's foot for each different size and age.

And, in addition, are designed expressly to keep the feet shapely and to strengthen and build up the foot to physical perfection.

For Girls BUSTER BROWN SHOES For Boys of 2 to 16

are the only shoes made upon these famous lasts—the only shoes that conform on the inside to the proper shape of the growing feet—the only shoes that will build up and strengthen the bones and the muscles at every needed point.

This means that Buster Brown Shoes will keep your child's feet shapely—will make them strong and sturdy—will prevent corns, bunions and other foot ailments in after years.

Come in and see these shoes and you will realize why they are so popular and so reasonable in price.

SENATORIAL 'BLOC' NOTHING BUT BALKINESS

Agricultural Interests Gain Points and Peace Now Reigns In Congress

By J. E. JONES
Special to The Glendale Evening News.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. — One reads considerable nowadays about senatorial "blocs," and since the word has not been used a great deal in this connection there is a certain amount of misunderstanding as to its meaning. Just call it "balky" instead of "bloc" and you will have the right meaning.

There are about twenty-three senators in the so-called "agricultural bloc" in the senate. Some of them are Republicans and others are Democrats. It is their idea that agriculture is the greatest industry in the nation, and they want the tax legislaion to recognize it as such. Even the crack of the party whip doesn't make them budge.

The administration promised a tariff bill last spring, and it will be a difficult job to get it through congress before next spring. The new tax bill might be recognized if referred to as the "tacks" bill, since it is punctured so often. The balky senators of the "agricultural bloc" had Senators Penrose and Lodge, the administration champions, thoroughly whipped on the tax bill as fall descended upon the capitol. The astute old leaders knew exactly what had happened to them, and they took their medicine, and as they made peace they smiled.

The "agricultural bloc" of balky senators worked so smoothly that imitators appeared, and there was talk about a "manufacturers' bloc," and other "blocs," but with peace restored in the ranks of the agricultural groups there is evidence that the balkiness that has been holding up the tax measure will disappear; and there are prospects of the tax bill making headway from now on. Balky senators, like balky horses, usually travel satisfactorily when they are having their own way.

Pershing Said, "Let's Go!"

General Pershing has been in Europe for several weeks on a mission of courtesy to the foreign governments with whom we were associated during the war. His purpose in going abroad was to place the congressional medals of honor on the graves of the unknown French and British soldiers. In France he was received with great acclain. The British had apparently not heard of General Pershing's mission, though they were notified last August. So General Pershing waited patiently in France as long as he thought he should, and then decided that it was time to return to the United States. He cut out the trip to England, and told his party: "Let's Go." Then England got excited, and offered a number of reasons why no provision had been made for the ceremony incident to General Pershing's trip. The delayed invitation was sent to General Pershing in great haste. In consequence the American general went to England to carry out his erand.

Problem of Pacific

President Harding says that it is "hard to imagine justifications for conflict among the peoples of the opposite shores of the Pacific ocean, which might reasonably be interpreted that there is no call for a fight between the United States and Japan. President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes are working to create a world sympathy for the objects of the coming armament conference, and the president has issued a warning against propaganda that will misrepresent the true meaning of the big event.

The late president used the expression that "it is necessary to concert public opinion," and that is evidently what the present administration is attempting to do, even though they speak of the effort in a different manner. President Wilson had a war to justify his methods of "concerting" public opinion, and some of the stuff that was "concerted" by Messrs. "Creel and Co." was said to be of the "poison gas variety of literature."

Evidently a repetition of some of this class of misleading information is feared at this time, as the public is being warned against the "pickpockets of publicity," who it is expected will work in the interests of some of the foreign governments at the conference. The United States administration emphasizes its high purpose in inviting the nations to Washington for a conference, and it is the unanimous belief in the capitol that if the visitors come with clean hands and purposes that a way can be found for curtailing the world production of armaments—and this production is looked upon as the chief instigation leading to wars.

Lawlessness in Cities

The wheels of justice in all of the big cities are choked with criminal cases, and Washington, D. C., where most of the laws are made is said to be the most lawless city in the United States. Bootleggers are doing so much business in the capital that the local courts are crowded with cases growing out of the illegal sale of liquor, and consequent disorders. The robbery of Joseph Leiter's private home of $300,000 worth of wines and liquors, and the holdup of a man and his wife on one of the principal streets in the early evening, were events of the wave of crime that came at about the same time recently.

Much 'New Gold' In Circulation Since War, Says Report

By U. S. Press Association.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—One of the curiosities of the golden flood which has poured in upon the people of the United States since the beginning of the war is the addition of over $300,000,000 worth of gold manufactures to their already large stock of personal effects of this character. The additions made to the already existing stocks of material manufactured from the precious metal have been, says the Trade Record of the National City Bank of New York, exceptionally large during and since the war. In pre-war years, says the bank's statement, we were accustomed to utilize from 25 to 30 million dollars' worth a year of "new gold" in the "manufactures and arts."

The term "new gold" represents the sum actually added to the existing stock of gold manufactures and is exclusive of the large quantities of old material turned in at the assay offices and there transformed into condition in which the metal could be re-utilized for similar lines of work. Most of the gold used by the manufacturers of the country is presumably purchased direct from the assay offices and the mints, and the reports of the Director of the Mint show that these purchases prior to the war averaged about $35,000,000 a year of "new material," and $8,000,000 a year of "old material."

The additions of "new gold" since tho beginning of the war have aggregated over $300,000,000 and brought the grand total of governmental sales of "new gold" for industrial purposes since 1880 up to approximately a billion dollars. Most of this was transformed into manufactures for use of the people of the United States, as the value of exports of gold manufactures is comparatively small, seldom reaching a million dollars a year.

'Come With Me,' Is Her Plea; He Does; Lands In Hoosegow

COLUMBUS, O.—She was a good-looking young woman. She tapped Emory Snyder, 38, of Hilliards, on the shoulder, saying, "Come with me!"

"I'll go anywhere with you," Snyder responded, as he walked away from Rich and Front streets accompanied by the young woman, who took him by the arm.

Just prior to the arrival of the young woman Snyder, witnesses said had been "telling the world" that he could lick anybody near his size.

The young woman called a municipal taxi. She and Snyder took a ride.

It was not until they arrived at the police station that Snyder learned the young woman was Mrs. Dollie Fisher, one of Columbus' two new policewomen.

Official Inquiry Into Charges Against Home

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 28.—Formal investigation of the charges lodged against Dr. F. O. Butler, medical superintendent of the Sonoma state home for feeble minded at Eldridge, was started with the departure of E. S. Birdsell, secretary of the state department of institutions for Eldridge. R. P. Fisher, superintendent of state institutions, said that no formal complaint had been filed against Dr. Butler but that charges alleging immorality among inmates were considered serious enough to warrant investigation. Dr. Butler, it is understood, denies all of the charges and said that the investigation would be welcomed into his conduct of the affairs of the home.

SISTER DECIDES

"Father knows you're going to marry my sister," said the little brother.

"But I didn't know it myself till a day or two ago," said the astonished suitor.

"Oh, so she's told you, too, has she?" replied the little brother.

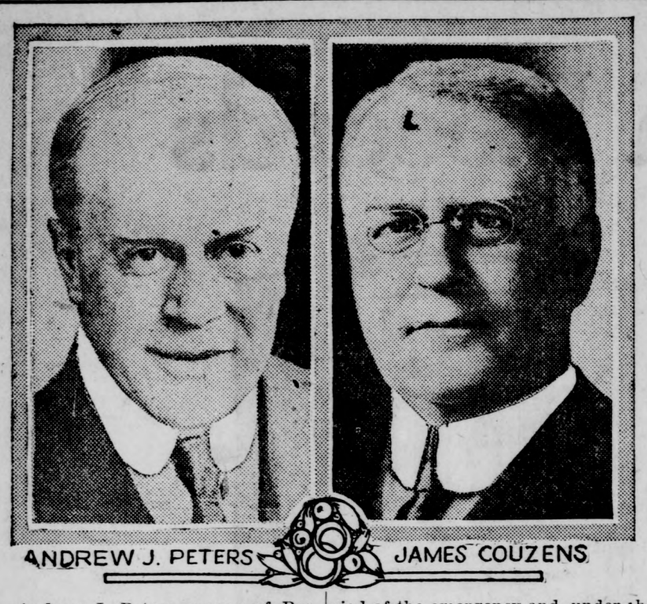
DETROIT AND BOSTON MAYORS IN FIGHT TO CONQUER UNEMPLOYMENT EVIL



ANDREW J. PETERS JAMES COUZENS

Andrew J. Peters, mayor of Boston, and James Couzens, mayor of Detroit, were two members of President Harding's unemployment conference who helped to work out the plan of municipal emergency action toward relieving the situation which threatens with regard to unemployment this winter. Each of them left the conference in its early stages to put the plans in operation in his own city and each of them has accepted membership in a holdover committee which will be at the service of every community that heeds President Harding's appeal for nation-wide action.

Colonel Arthur Woods, former police commissioner of New York and later assistant to the secretary of war, was asked by Herbert Hoover, chairman of the conference, to remain in Washington during the period of the emergency and, under the department of commerce, head the work of co-ordinating municipal effort.

"Cities and towns must be relied upon for immediate attack upon the emergency," said the report of Colonel Woods' committee. "Whatever is done must take place in local communities and the citizens of such communities are the ones responsible and capable of seeing that the necessary measures are carried out. This but repeats the first principle of American life, reliance upon local initiative and obligation."

However, the full benefit of the experiences of scores of communities now at work are available for any cities entering the fight. Mayors and members of emergency committees are invited to communicate with Colonel Woods.

Professor States He Needs $42,000 for Family Care

NEW YORK—Prof. Henry Lane Eno, of Princeton, has confessed his inability to provide a "suitable" home for his wife and two children on $10,000 a year.

Professor Eno, formerly rated as one of the wealthiest educators in the United States, said in a petition filed in surrogate's court, that he had met financial reverses six years ago which had compelled him to sell his estate in Bar Harbor, Me., and two houses in New York. Because his income had been reduced, he asked that $30,000 be advanced to him annually, as guardian for his son and $12,000 for his daughter out of the estate of their uncle, Amos F. Eno, whose will is being contested. The educator set forth that, whatever the outcome of court action, his children will receive between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000.

The professor's petition added that, up to 1914, he had frequently, with his wife and children, employed the best instructors and tutors in music, foreign language and science for the education of the latter, and gave them the social and educational opportunities appropriate to their situation. His reverses, the petition continued, forced him to change his entire mode of life.

"It is obvious that it is impossible for the petitioner upon $10,000 to maintain a suitable home for his children, to give them the usual opportunities for summer recreation or the educational, social and other advantages to which they are rightfully entitled."

Establish Home for Canine Waifs; Even Provide Ambulance

LINCOLN, Neb.—The canine waif without friend or home is to have a double chance for life and luxury in Lincoln. Before death reaches the parentless dog in this community the city and the Lanacaster County Humane society will have exhausted every means of provding life and limb.

The sick and crippled will have a regularly employed veterinarian at their call, Dr. C. J. Norden by name, who will devote his time to saving lives.

A tract of land has been set aside as the home for orphaned dogs, provided with kennels and runways similar to the breeding kennels of pedigree stock. These temporary homes are sanitary.

The people of the city are compelled through ordinance to notify the society of the presence of a stray dog. A city ambulance answers summons day or night.

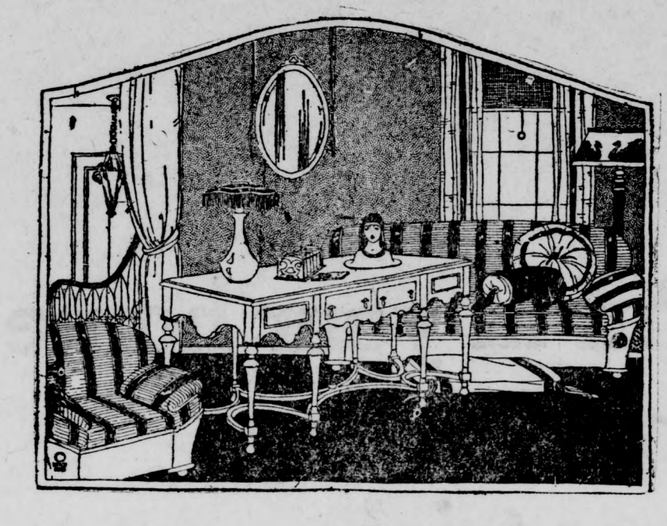
Citizens of Lincoln, also, are prohibited from destroying dogs in any manner. Any person who poisons or in any other manner does away with a dog is subject to heavy fine.

Dogs falling into the care of the humane society have a 99 per cent chance of finding a home. But very few dogs have been destroyed. A regular booking agency is established by the society, an agency that lists persons wanting all classifications of dogs.

Sponges are popularly regarded as a kind of sea plant, but in reality they are the skeletons of a low type of animal.

"A Growing Furniture Store for a Growing City"

A Well-Furnished Home Is the Secret of Social Superiority



—That individuality and subtle evasion of things commonplace in the furnishings of the better homes of today is a particular achievement at Page's, in Glendale.

—You'll find it an inspiration to see our display. The furniture is so beautiful and the stock so well chosen, that you are sure to come away with new and practical ideas for your own house.

—You will also be surprised when you note the reasonableness of the prices that characterize the furniture shown here.

Living Room Furniture

Of cane and mahogany, and the massive overstuffed suites in tapestry and velours offer a most comprehensive variety in designs that will grace any home. The new arrivals are marvelous creations of exceeding beauty. You will be pleasantly surprised, that there is, at last, a store in Glendale that carries this character of furniture.

Bed Room Furniture

For the most pretentious or the most simple of bedrooms may be happily chosen here. The new, graceful bow-end beds, the four posters or the plain, serviceable Simmons' steel beds may be found in our stocks. Beautifully matched suites in the late Polychrome and Parchment finishes as well as Ivory and Mahogany.

Dining Room Furniture

Selecting the wood is most important when choosing your dining room furniture. Beautiful graining is conspicuous in the suites shown here, where there is a wide selection of mahogany, walnut and oak suites. You can also buy odd chairs or the new oblong or oval dining tables—with or without chairs. See the exquisite Italian Renaissance Dining Room Suite in window.

Rugs and Linoleum

Not satisfied as being known as the leading rug store of this vicinity, we have also made a specialty of linoleums—and have backed up this linoleum showing by inaugurating an up-to-date linoleum-laying service. Linoleum sold by us will be laid by the new cement method — waterproof and absolutely smooth.

GAS HEATERS

These brisk, cool mornings and evenings are surely moving our heaters—which include the famous Lawson Heater, Reznor, a compact, efficient heater that gives a maximum of heat for a minimum of gas, and absolutely odorless.

BREAK CHEST COLDS WITH RED PEPPER

Ease your tight, aching chest. Stop the pain. Break up the congestion. Feel a bad cold loosen up in just a short time.

"Red Pepper Rub" is the cold remedy that brings quickest relief. It cannot hurt you and it certainly seems to end the tightness and drive the congestion and soreness right out.

Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers, and when heat penetrates right down into colds, congestion, aching muscles and sore, stiff joints relief comes at once.

The moment you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes the congested spot is warmed through and through. When you are suffering from a cold, rheumatism, backache, stiff neck or sore muscles, just get a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, at any drug store. You will have the quickest relief known. Always say "Rowles."—Advertisement.

Stone crabs of Florida have dug into the concrete piling of a bridge across Boce Ceiga bay, near St. Petersburg, tearing holes in the stone to make homes for themselves. Heretofore concrete has been regarded as a match for everything but steel tools and high explosives. The piling is to be sheathed with sheet iron to prevent further damage from this source.

TURTLES STAY AT HOME

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo.—Turtles are like mountaineers of the Ozarks—they live a long time but never get far away from home. Sixty years ago H. W. Kirkschoff carved his initials, "H. W., 1861," on the back of a turtle and turned it loose. Kirkschoff died several years ago. H. H. Kirkschoff, his son, has found the plodding animal.

A bee can carry twice its own weight in honey.

CORKS SPELL HIS NAME

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo.—The most freakish "doctor's sign" in the world attests the health of this community. Hanging over the sidewalk is the "shingle" of Dr. J. L. Harwell. It is ten by eighteen inches, with the background made up of 3000 pills, pink pellets predominating. "Doc's" name is spelled out with corks from medicine bottles. Old surgical instruments and bottles decorate the top of the queerest sign.

Announcing the Opening of the New S. Berman Building, Saturday, Oct. 29

S. BERMAN, Merchant Tailor, cordially invites the people of Glendale to attend the opening of his

New Business Block and Tailoring Establishment

Saturday, October 29th

Mr. Berman located in Glendale and started a tailoring establishment at 122 North Brand boulevard in 1911. So conscientiously and skilfully executed was all work entrusted to the Berman Tailor Shop, that the business has grown steadily for the past ten years, until it is now one of the best known tailoring firms in Southern California, and numbers among its patrons the most influential citizens of Glendale and vicinity.

In order to accommodate this ever increasing business, the present building was planned and erected.
Every modern convenience to further and maintain the high character of Berman Tailoring has been installed and the arrangements and furnishings offer every accommodation to both patrons and workmen.

At the opening of his new building Mr. Berman wishes to express his appreciation to the Glendale people for their generous and loyal patronage during the past ten years, and every effort will be made to merit this confidence in the future.

Come! Attend This Opening! Everyone Welcome!

"Don't Be a Tight-Wad"

—Be a Saver

THRIFT IS NOT an American characteristic. Life in this wonderful, rich, free and generous country is generally so easy that thrift and the habit of saving does not seem necessary.

Yet success is scarcely possible without thrift and saving, because, to get a start in life generally, we must have at least a small amount of capital, no matter how much technical skill or information we may possess. How to get the capital without saving it is the problem many have tried to solve, but with little success. Some few inherit capital, and a few others pit their skill or knowledge against a partner's capital. Neither of those exceptions end in success all the time.

If you could canvass every successful business man in Glendale and he would tell you how he got his start, you would find that to most of them an opportunity came to enter into business for themselves, and they were ready for it with their savings, and the backing of their bankers.

But it all began with self-denial and the carefully nurtured habit of saving a part of their earnings. This resulted in good business habits, a feeling of responsibility, added self-respect, and the respect of their community. The habit of saving does not mean that one should develop into a "tight-wad." That is the other extreme from prodigality.

If you have a goal in life—to own a home, to be your own boss, to succeed—you must begin by saving a part of your earnings. The sooner you start the better. Start now—here. 4 per cent interest on savings.

On Special Savings Accounts we pay 3 per cent and allow checking privilege.

We can help you save, and make your savings earn interest for you.

Historic Photographs Added to Collection of Relics in Springfield Tomb of A. Lincoln

Major Henry R. Rathbone - Henry R. Rathbone, Jr. - Mrs. Henry Rathbone, Sr.

By International News Service

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 28.—To the large number of relics and memoirs in the Lincolnia at the Lincoln tomb here have been added the photographs of Major and Mrs. Henry R. Rathbone, who were guests of President and Mrs. Lincoln in their theatre box on the night of Lincoln's assassination.

When the sudden, murderous attack was made by Booth, Major Rathbone, who was unarmed, sprang to the assistance of the president, but was stabbed by Booth, receiving a severe wound.

The major and his wife at the time of the tragedy were a young couple engaged to be married. Major Rathbone was a distinguished soldier of the Twelfth United States infantry during the war and Mrs. Rathbone, then Miss Clara Harris, was the daughter of United States Senator Harris of New York, one of the founders of the Republican party. President and Mrs. Lincoln smiled upon the romance.

Miss Harris' father had been one of Lincoln's stanchest supporters in the senate during the war and a very warm friendship had sprung up between Mrs. Lincoln and the young lady. A number of interesting personal letters passed between the wife of the president and the daughter of the senator. These were later presented to Robert T. Lincoln by Henry Rathbone, Jr., now a prominent attorney in Chicago and a leader in Illinois politics. Mr. Rathbone, Jr., presented the pictures of his parents to Wells Fay, custodian of the Lincoln tomb.

On the fatal evening, April 14, 1865, General and Mrs. Grant were to have been the guests of the President and Mrs. Lincoln, but they were unable to attend and Major Rathbone and his fiancee were invited instead. They drove to the theatre from the White House with President and Mrs. Lincoln.

By an interesting coincidence Henry R. Rathbone, the eldest son of the couple who were so personally interested in this national tragedy, was born on Lincoln's birthday.

U. S. Financiers and British Capital Are After Russian Trade

By S. D. WEYER

Written for International News Service

BERLIN, Oct. 28.—A race has begun with British capital on the one hand and American financiers on the other, to get in on the ground floor of a virtual receivership for Central Europe with the ultimate view of gaining the lion's share of the fruits of Russian reconstruction, the way to which leads inevitably across Germany.

This was the opinion in financial circles here today as a result of Frank A. Vanderlip's proposal for a European bank capitalized at one billion American gold dollars and fashioned in accordance with the plan of which the United States federal reserve bank was built.

Asked how he believed the allied powers would view his scheme, Vanderlip winked shrewdly, and answered with a smile:

"England won't like it at all; she has her own plans. But I say positively that unless such a plan is soon adopted, England will starve. I want to reiterate my sincere conviction that the burden imposed upon Germany in the reparations requirements is impossible for her to bear. Some form of relief must be found. This matter is not one of interest to Germany alone; it interests the whole world."

Cross of Chevalier for Macaroni Maker

ST. LOUIS—In recognition of his services to his countrymen here during the war, the king of Italy has conferred upon A. L. Randazzo, local macaroni manufacturer, the Cross of Chevalier. At the presentation ceremonies, attended by Mayor Henry Kiel and other prominent public men, Roberto de Violini, Italian Consul here, was the principal speaker. In behalf of the king, he pinned the medal upon Randazzo.

V. Selvaggi, Italian banker and steamship agent, told how, twenty years ago, Randazzo came to him and asked for aid in finding work. He found work for Randazzo, he said, but the union refused to permit him to work. Randazzo was unionized and took the job, and by working steadily he soon saved enough to establish his macaroni factory.

HELD FOR KILLING HIS PAL

M'CLENNY, Fla.—Lonnie Gainey, 13, was held without bail today as a result of the killing at Burnett's schoolhouse yesterday of Leonard Dugger, 12. One of the boys, it was said, had tobacco in his pocket at school and the other informed the teacher. The boys quarreled over the incident. Witnesses said that Gainey drew a knife and cut the other boy's throat.

Taxes In France, Result of War, Hit at Everybody

PARIS—The French people are paying many unusual taxes as a result of the heavy burdens imposed by the war. The ministry of finances states that there are 183 persons in the country who have incomes of 1,000,000 francs or more.

Taxes are collected on all and any paper used in the transaction of current business in France. The little revenue stamp is ever present on checks, invoices, promissory notes, bills receivable, bills of lading, receipts.

If one desires to travel to Nice or to any other points in France besides paying 130 per cent more for his fare than he would before the war, he will have to pay 10 per cent for a government tax and a neat little stamp on his berth ticket in the sleeping car will cost him another 10 per cent.

If he desires to send letters from Nice to his friends in Paris or in foreign countries, he will find that the cost of the former will be 25 centimes instead of 10 and, for the latter 50 centimes, as compared with 15 before the war. Should a postcard suffice his epistolary needs, he will pay 20 centimes instead of one sou.

The waiter brings him his bill for the amount of his dinner and he notes a charge of 10 per cent is added to the total of the bill as a government tax. It is the last line. Tickets to the theatre are taxed 10 per cent.

At the race track, if he bets 100 francs, he will find that he has only waged 90. The government retains 10 per cent as against five before the war.

The midinette who signs the receipt for the 75 or 80 francs of her weekly wages, has to obliterate a little government stamp of 25 centimes with her signature.

The most profitable tax in France is that on tobacco, which has been increased about three-fold since 1914 and which brought into the French treasury for the year 1920 816,000,000 francs, as against the income tax of 812,000,000 francs.

Right Now Time to Invest in Glendale Real Estate, Claim

"I feel that one cannot be too optimistic over the future of Glendale," says L. A. Hart of the Hart Realty company, 113 East Broadway. "A year next month I made a statement which appeared in The Glendale Evening News and which at that time was probably taken with a grain of salt by a good many. At that time property values were thought to be at the peak. I said I thought values would continue to increase, and they have.

"But even at that property values here are not as high as in surrounding cities; values are higher even in Anaheim. A great many have thought that real estate in Glendale has been sold and re-sold by a few who made money on the deals, but such is not the case, as I know of a number of pieces of property that have not changed hands at all and the value has increased.

"Right now is the time to invest, the time for the small investor and the large investor. Glendale is a home city, it is a place where people come back to live after making a visit here, and it will always be an ideal city for homes, and for that reason property will always be a good investment in Glendale."

Officials Meet to Discuss Campaign Against Narcotics

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—What is expected to develop into a nation-wide anti-narcotics campaign was launched when officials from every branch of the federal, state, county and city governments of northern and Central California met here.

United States District Attorney John T. Williams called the gathering to order and described the purpose of the meeting. The aim of the gathering, he said, was to unite every branch of government into a compact force of attack on the narcotic evil.

National and state experts on the subject were on the program for addresses.

BOXING, WRESTLING, BAG PUNCHING ON CLUB'S PROGRAM

Athletic Organization Plans Entertainment for Monday Night, October 31

Rex Randall, 111 West Broadway, chairman of the social committee in charge of the program to be given by the Glendale Athletic club at its regular meeting next Monday night at 111 East Broadway, announces that two boxing bouts, a wrestling bout, a bag-punching exhibition, musical numbers and refreshments will be on the program. L. E. Thompson, president of the club, has been busy the past week rounding up eligibles for the organization and extending invitations for all those interested in athletics to attend and enjoy the free program.

Two boxing bouts are planned. Walter Dodge vs. Young Myers, 145 pounds, and Kid Essex vs. Kid Hopper, 118 pounds. Following the bouts, should there be anything left of Dodge, he will take on Wm. A. Pfeiffer for ten minutes of wrestling.

Once Champion Puncher

William Fry, who at one time held the national championship for bag punching, will appear on the program. Mr. Fry is spending a few weeks in Glendale and Mr. Randall secured him for Monday night.

The hall and banquet room at 111 East Broadway have been secured for the event and Mr. Randall is very enthused over the program of entertainment.

"Besides the athletic numbers for the evenng," he said, "we shall have plenty of music, plenty of hot dogs, plenty of coffee, and plenty of smokes. The usual good time will be enjoyed by all."

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.—Advertisement.

It is said that the Temple of Solomon, in modern values, cost about $5,000,000,000. Practically the entire manhood of Israel was conscripted to build it.

GLENDALE LAUNDRY LIKE A MOTHER FOR COMMUNITY

'Blue Monday' Eliminated by Modern Mechanical Devices Used in Local Plant

By ART SHERBORNE

What happens to the dirt that is washed out of a shirt?

Mrs. Glendale put out the cat this morning and joined the visitors at the Glendale Laundry.

W. E. Hewitt, proprietor of the laundry, is a sort of "community mother." He has stricken off the calendar "Blue Monday."

"We are always glad to have visitors call and go through our establishment," said Mr. Hewitt in welcome. "Many hesitate to come because they think they would be interrupting work here. We consider it a privilege to show them around. We are equipped to do everything that any modern laundry does. The idea is to get people into the plant to see how we do it. We are quite proud of our plant."

The Glendale Laundry occupies a many-windowed, sky-lighted, well-ventilated building on Arden at Columbus avenue. Here it has been quartered since 1912—a purely local institution.

How Clothes Are Marked

The National Association of Laundry men has devised a particular place for each laundry mark. If an article has never been away from home before, a mark is immediately stenciled upon it either by hand or by a special machine.

The articles are sorted into piles according to the variety of the cloth, its texture and color. Linens, woolens, cottons and silks must be washed separately and treated differently in order that the fabrics may not be injured.

The Glendale Laundry runs upon a regular time table like a railroad and the manager is able to find out at any time whether the work is going through on time. One of the mottoes of the institution is "punctuality."

The battery of washing machines are of different sizes. The wash is placed in enclosed, perforated cylinders partially filled with soapy water. Wooden ribs on the bottom of these barrels lift the laundry as the cylinder revolves and drop it again into the fleecy suds. The insides of these tumbling barrels are absolutely smooth and there is absolutely no chance of the laundry being torn or damaged.

Modernity in Methods

In ancient days garments were cleaned in a softly running brook. This same principle is used in modern laundry methods. In the large cylinders of the Glendale Laundry cascades of warm, soft water bubble through the meshes of the garments—in the same manner that Apollo had his shirt washed in 1323 B. C.

"There is no mystery in pure rain-soft water, mild white soap, and in repeated rinsings in crystal clear water," stated Mr. Hewitt. "We have merely replaced guess work with certainty and substituted ingenious modern equipment for the back-breaking wash tub."

Some of the wet laundry is stuffed into waist-high, rotund, metal, vertical cylinders known as extractors. These revolve at a speed of 90 miles an hour—but it only takes about ten minutes to hurl every drop of moisture out of the garments.

Fluffy articles, such as bath towels and underwear, are placed in a dry room tumbler which is an immense enclosed wire cylinder revolving horizontally in a blast of hot air. Woolen blankets and outing shirts are dried in the open air.

Use Special Ironing Machines

There is a special ironing machine for each class of work. Sheets and flatwork are fed under long, warm, steam-heated, canvas-covered rolls which flatten them out. Uniforms and outer garments are pressed upon machines similar to the pressing machines in use by tailors.

The Glendale Laundry has found that most men are "finnicky" about their shirts. Different kinds are ironed upon different kinds of machines. There is a special machine which does nothing but iron the sleeves of shirts between short, steam-heated cylinders. Then the cuffs are clamped into shape on another machine. Fibers of new shirts are pressed closer together making a fine, smooth soil-resisting finish—and a custom-tailored appearance.

There is also a battery of ironing boards. Here fine silk blouses and lingerie are "smoothed" by professionals with electrically-heated, hand-wielded flatirons.

The stiff collar department is one of the most interesting in the plant. The collars are washed. Then they are fed on a fat drum which revolves in a vat of liquid starch. This is rubbed into them by hand upon tables. Then they are hung upon hooks on portable racks and rolled into a drying closet with a temperature somewhat in excess of the Mojave desert.

A dampening machine moistens the seam of each collar so that it can be folded readily. Its two sides are pressed together on the sides of a circular disk of metal by a cold "iron" on a pivot. In the interior of a steam-heated cylinder about two feet long they "cook" for a few minutes and are ready to be "served."

In the sorting room the articles are sorted and wrapped, in aseptic paper. To show the size of the industry, each week about four miles of string is used by the Glendale Laundry.

The payroll for the institution, which gives work to over 45 persons, amounts to over $1000 a week. The girls in spotless white uniforms work industriously—but if they are able to finish the "week's washing" by Friday night, they get a holiday Saturday with pay.

Heavy Oil Causes Melody in Violins

BERLIN—Heavy oil is the secret of the melodious timbre of Cremona violins, according to Professor Koch, of Dresden, who will start a workshop for production of artificial master violins in middle Germany this winter. Fritz Kreisler, Bronislav Huberman and Ferry Lorrant will play on the professor's imitations during the coming Berlin concert season.

Professor Koch discredits the old theory that age, kind, or varnish of the wood of the violins being played for years by prominent virtuosi have anything to do with the sweet tones of the Italian viola.

The resonance is particularly due to the absolute regularity of vibrations caused by wood of extraordinary density. This density is attained by painting the violins with a mixture of rapidly-drying oils, which penetrate the wood, thus rendering it especially resonant.

a request was made by the city.

"I move the Pacific Electric be asked to make no further charge," said Councilman Davis, promptly. The motion prevailed. Then Attorney Smith continued his plea for a bus franchise.

The attorney declared that a system of transfers would be effective and a passenger riding on the street car line would be entitled to continue on the bus line. In this way, he said, the company would, eventually, provide traffic accommodations for practically all sections of the city.

"We have already ordered one bus to seat twenty-three persons; we will have to order another, so fast is Glendale growing," said Attorney Smith.

Suggestions from the traveling public, said the attorney, would be welcome in an effort to benefit the service.

The application will be further considered next Monday night and it may be the first bus service will be started by December 1, said city officials today.

HINDU ROMANCE IS LUCID STORY OF ORIENTAL WAYS

Plenty of Interest Offered by New Book; Delightful Releases at Library

Books of fiction and instruction are included among those which have been put on the shelves for general distribution at the public library during the past week, as follows:

"The Wreck," a Hindu romance, by Rabindranath Tagore. The story is told in a lucid, dramatic style and is a revelation of Oriental ways of thinking and living.

"Pierre and Joseph," by Rene Bazin. A book which every lover of France and her people will enjoy.

"Alice and a Family," a very delightful story by St. John G. Ervine.

"Producing Amateur Entertainments," by Helen Ferris. A book of stunts and other numbers.

Fiction and Science

"The Key Note," by Clara Louise Burnham, an interesting book of fiction interwoven with science.

"The Handicraft Book," by Anne L. Jessup and Annie E. Logue. Comprising methods of teaching chord and raffia constructive work, weaving, basketry and chair caning in graded schools.

"A New Shakespearean Dictionary," by R. J. Cunliffe. This book embodies the result of a systematic examination of the language of the Shakespeare canon and presents definitions concisely.

"Representative Plays by American Dramatists," edited by Montrose J. Moses.

"Concordance to Shakespeare's Poems," by Furness. An index to every word contained therein.

About Golden West

"The Negro Trail-Blazers of California," by Delilah L. Beasley. A combination of records from the California archives in the Bancroft library at the University of California in Berkeley ,and from diaries and old papers and conversation of old pioneers in the state of California.

"Elementary Surveying," by Breed and Hosmer.

"Higher Surveying," by Breed and Hosmer.

Governor of North Dakota Today Faces Recall by Voters

BISMARCK, N. D., Oct. 28.—The non-partisan league went on trial in North Dakota for its existence today when the state's 225,000 voters beban balloting on whether to recall Governor Lynn J. Frazier and the chief members of his administration. It is the first time a state has employed the recall against a governor.

The recall movement was initiated by the "Independents," a republican-democratic combination, which seeks the overthrow of the "Big Three"—Governor Frazier, who is serving his third two-year term; Wm. Lemke, attorney general, and John N. Hagan, commissioner of agriculture and labor.

The Independents' candidates are R. A. Nestor for governor; Sveinjorn Johnson for attorney general, and Jos. A. Kitchen for commissioner of labor and agriculture.

It is the contention of the Independents that the principles put into practice in North Dakota by the non-partisan leaguers are economically unsound. They charge that the non-partisan leaguers have used the league to build up a great political machine, diverted public funds from the Bank of North Dakota into league-controlled banks to be loaned to corporations controlled by the league leaders and have driven money from the state by repeated attacks on financial interests.

OFFICIAL MINUTES OF CITY COUNCIL

Following are the official minutes of the City Council which met in session at the city hall Thursday night:

Council assembled at 7:35 p. m.; all members present. Councilman Stephenson moved that the regular order of business be set aside and that the minutes of meeting of October 29 be read at the close of the meeting.

Councilman Davis: "Resolution of the council of the city of Glendale declaring its intention to improve a portion of Garfield avenue and of certain streets and alleys intersecting therewith in the city of Glendale and describing the district to be assessed to pay the cost and expenses of said improvement and providing bonds for the payment of same," all voting aye.

Ordinances Introduced

The following ordinances were introduced, read and ordered to be laid over:

Councilman Lapham: "An ordinance amending ordinance No. 372 entitled 'An ordinance of the city of Glendale establishing industrial districts in said city and regulating the carrying on of certain business in said city' by adding a new section thereto, numbered section 1 A."

Councilman Kimlin: "An ordinance of the city of Glendale, regulating the business of pawn-browkers, second-hand dealers, junk dealers and junk collectors."

Councilman Lapham: "An ordinance amending ordinance No. 274, entitled 'An ordinance of the board of trustees of the city of Glendale licensing and regulating the carrying on of certain businesses and occupations therein mentioned: providing license fees for the same and providing a penalty for the violation thereof and repealing all ordinances in conflict therewith, and repealing ordinance No. 263,' entitled 'An ordinance of the board of trustees of the city of Glendale licensing and regulating the carrying on of certain businesses and occupations therein mentioned: providing license fees for the same and providing a penalty for the violation thereof,' so as to add two new sections thereto numbered 30 A and 30 B."

Resolution 1258

On motion of Councilman Davis, the following resolution was adopted, all voting aye: "A resolution of the city of Glendale, authorizing and empowering Bert P. Woodard, city attorney of said city, to enter into a stipulation in the cause now pending before the superior court of the state of California in and for the county of Los Angeles, entitled 'County of Los Angeles, plaintiff, vs. the cities of Alhambra, et al., defendants, No. B-97828.'"

Ordinance Adopted

The following ordinance previously presented to the council, was adopted on motion of Councilman Kimlin: "An ordinance to provide a procedure for the construction of pipes, hydrants, conduits and other appliances and appurtenances for fire protection and for distribution of the municipal water supply of the city of Glendale and whereby the city of Glendale may bid on said work when done under the provisions of local improvement resolutions,' as ordinance No. 298." Roll call as follows: Ayes, Davis, Kimlin, Lapham, Robinson; noes, none; absent, Stephenson.

The minutes of the regular meeting of October 20, 1921, were read and approved.

Adjourned.

AS IS

"Do you take this man for better or worse?"

"He can't get no worse, and they is no hopes of his gittin' any better, so I takes him as he is."

LAUGHS AT LOCKSMITHS

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo.—Love absolutely laughs at locksmiths, pretty Winnie Mann will tell the world. Paul Gardner, of Tupelo, Ark., the man she loved, was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment for automobile theft. Sheriff J. R. Hogg granted the plea of Miss Mann, and Gardner was taken under guard before Judge Deem, where he said, "I do." Gardner will reside in Jefferson City at the "State House," while his wife will go to his home at Tupelo.

CHOPS WAY INTO HOMES

ST. LOUIS—Frank Kordick "gave 'em the axe" says his wife, who is seeking a divorce. He chopped his way into their home while she was away and destroyed an electric fan, "five hats, a dress, a pair of lace curtains and a waist," all her property. In addition to a divorce, she seeks $161 actual and $1000 punitive damages from Frank.

The marriage ceremony is frequently the final act of diplomacy previous to a declaration of war.

HAWAII IS JAP'S PARADISE

HONOLULU, T. H.—Vice-Admiral Saito, of the Imperial Japanese navy, commanding the training cruisers Idzumo and Yokumo, in an address before several hundred of his countrymen here urged them to give up thoughts of returning to Japan and to strive instead to make themselves a permanent part of Hawaii. He said that only by taking this attitude and working with the Americans for the betterment of the community could the Japanese show their gratitude toward America for giving them homes in this Paradise of the Pacific.

NOT NEAR ENOUGH TATERS

COLUMBUS—The reason only a few potatoes are being shipped out of Ohio is because Buckeye state raisers have not produced enough for consumption within the state, according to George U. Marvin, chief of the state bureau of markets. Marvin's assertion was in response to the statement that the federal bureau of markets recently reported 1,751 carloads of potatoes in transit, but that no Ohio potatoes were included.

Sweetheart Slayer Thinks World Cruel, Won't Let Him Die

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Oct., 28.—Roy Parse, 17-year-old convicted slayer of Louise Willoughby, his sweetheart, thinks "it's a cruel world that won't let a person die when he want to."

"I wanted the electric chair, but only got a life sentence," he complained.

Parse, who had asked Governor McCray to "give him the chair," pleaded guilty to first-degree murder when he was haled before Judge Jeffries in circuit court.

KARL GOES ON A CRUISE

PARIS, Oct. 28. — Ex-emperor Karl will be transferred from the British monitor at Galitz, Rumania, to the cruiser Cardiff, which will take him to Constantinople it was reported here today. The ill-fated ex-monarch will remain aboard the Cardiff pending a definite decision as to his final disposition by the council of ambassadors. It was believed certain he would be sent into exile on the island of Madeira.

MOUSE IN BED; DIVORCE

CHICAGO—Mrs. Gladys May Marsh, a stenographer, tolerated much abuse and cruel treatment from her husband, Clyde Marsh, a real estate dealer, but she called it a day and quit when he placed a mouse in bed, according to her testimony before Judge Sabath, of the superior court, today.

He struck me and was forgiven several times in our two years of married life," she testified, "but the unforgivable offense was the mouse episode. With the terrible little creature crawling over my body in the few moments before I could scramble out of bed, I suffered mental anguish more horrible than any physical pain." Judge Sabath indicated he would grant a divorce.

UNIQUE HALLOWEEN PARTY GIVEN FOR CLUB MEMBERS

Mrs. E. E. East Proves Very Charming Hostess; Various Features Bring Pleasure

Mrs. E. E. East of 121 West Lexington Drive was hostess Wednesday afternoon at a picturesquely attractive Halloween luncheon and bridge, her guests being the members of the Wednesday Afternoon Bridge club and several out-of-town friends.

Mrs. East created a most artistic setting for the card tables in the living-rooms, using bright autumn leaves very effectively. The dining room was draped in yellow and black, small, yellow jack-o-lanterns shading the candles, and the table, where the dainty, four-course luncheon was served, was centered with a witch's cauldron bubbling over a fire composed of scarlet autumn leaves.

Tell "Future Life"

The cauldron was filled with mysterious bits of paper, which were attached to ribbons running to each place; the guests pulled the ribbons and were delighted to find on each slip a prophetic revelation as to her future life. The little "fortunes" were the original work of the hostess and created much excitement and merriment.

Those who enjoyed the affair included Mrs. Forrest Rogers, Mrs. Charles Carrol, Mrs. Claude Putnam, Mrs. George Robinson, Mrs. Frank George, Mrs. Harry Powers, Jr., Mrs. Charles Meadows, Mrs. W. W. Walker, and Miss Elma Weiss; Mrs. J. B. Elliott of Alhambra; Mrs. Stafford Bixby of Hollywod; Mrs. Walker made high score.

Union of 5 Republics Excites Mexico City

MEXICO CITY—Wide interest was stirred here by the reported agitation for the union of the five republics in the new Central American Federation with Mexico. Mexican officials were unwilling to discuss the matter, but their demeanor left no doubt that they were pleased with the report.

At the national palace it was said that President Obregon read the report with interest. But it was denied that the idea had taken serious form.

The report reached here in a dispatch from Havana, which stated that Rafael Cardenas Jiminez, the new Costa Rican consul in Mexico City, had strongly advocated the union of Central America and Mexico and had announced his determination to agitate for such a union.

FROM SUNSHINE TO SNOW AND SLEET IN MOUNTAINS

Glendale Folk Have Unusual Experience; See Trio of Deer in Early Dawn

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kalbaugh and son, Dallas, of 526 West Doran street, accompanied by Miss G. B. Young and Miss Delia Young, sisters of Mrs. Kalbaugh, and their brother, Dr. C. S. Young of Los Angeles, motored to Camp Baldy last Saturday, taking a tent and provisions for camping out.

Unfortunately they did not anticipate the sudden change in the weather and were not well supplied with blankets and early Sunday morning the cold drove them from their beds. The entire party decided to take a hike up the mountain to warm up and see the sunrise.

See Three Deer

Mrs. Kalbaugh and one of her sisters who loitered behind the rest of the crowd on the trail, had the good luck to see three deer that were making their way to the stream for water in the early dawn. They were all does and apparently did not resent the presence of the campers, but walked past them quietly, entirely unafraid.

When the sun came up the party returned to camp, cooked their dinner and returned to Glendale without unpleasant results from their rather cold and rainy outing.

They report that one party of venturesome young people hiked to the top of Mount Baldy Saturday night with very few blankets and found both snow and sleet there to greet them with the result that they had a very uncomfortable night and will probably all suffer some bad results from the exposure.

Bull Goes Mad When About to Gore Boys

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo. — William Daniels admits today that he is as much opposed to Hereford bulls as Ireland is to Johnny's "bull." And William is in favor of "fits." Because an angered Hereford threw a fit Daniels' two small sons are alive today.

The two boys, ten and twelve, were attacked by an irate bull. With the youths lying on the ground, the infuriated animal was preparing to gore them to death when he suddenly was seized with a fit. Frothing at the mouth, the bull was slain by a veterinary surgeon, who declared the animal had hydrophobia.

NOTICE OF SALE OF PROPERTY DELINQUENT FOR NON-PAYMENT OF BOND ISSUED FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF BROADWAY, IN THE CITY OF GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA.

Default having been made in the payment of the installment of the principal and interest of that certain street improvement bond hereinafter described which became due on the 2nd day of January, 1920.

And the holder of said bond having, on the 20th day of October, 1921, duly demanded in writing that the City Treasurer of the said City of Glendale proceed to advertise and sell the lot or parcel mentioned in said bond and hereinafter described, to represent an assessment upon which said bond was issued for making certain improvements on Broadway street, in the City of Glendale, pursuant to and under the provisions of Resolution of Intention No. 1043 of the City of Glendale and the said bond, or its unpaid remainder, with accrued interest, as expressed in said bond, having thereupon become due and payable immediately, and upon the day following, to-wit: the 3rd day of January, 1920, having become delinquent, and the whole amount due on said bond not having been paid;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that I, J. C. Sherer, City Treasurer of the City of Glendale, under and by virtue of the authority vested in me by law, will, on the 19th day of November, 1921, at the hour of 10 o'clock a. m., of said day, sell at public auction the real property hereinafter described and mentioned in said bond, at the office of the said City Treasurer, in the City Hall of said City of Glendale, No. 575 West Broadway, unless the amount due on said bond and the interest due thereon, together with the cost of publication of this notice, are paid, according to law; and that I will so sell the same to the person who will pay the amount of unpaid principal and interest due on said bond, together with the cost of publication of this notice; that the said sale will be made in accordance with and under the provisions of an Act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled: "An Act to Provide a System of Street Improvement Bonds to represent certain Assessments for the Cost of Street Work, and Improvement within Municipalities, and also for the Payment of such Bonds," approved February 27, 1893, and amendments thereto.

That the said bond referred to in this notice is described as follows:

Street Improvement Bond, No. 41, Series 6, Assessment No. 100, in the City of Glendale, County of Los Angeles, State of California, for the sum of ....dollars, ($....), bearing interest at the rate of....per cent per annum, issued for the improvement of ..... street, in the City of Glendale from .....to....., said bond is dated June 30, 1919, and is issued to represent the assessment upon the hereinafter described property mentioned in said bond for the street improvement above mentioned.

That the property mentioned in said bond, and to represent the assessment against which for said street improvement said bond was issued, is that certain parcel of land situate in the City of Glendale, County of Los Angeles, State of California, more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

Lot 5, block 18, McIntyre's Miner tract (except that portion included in Broadway), Map Book 9, Page 123, Records of Los Angeles County, Calif.

That the amount due on said bond is as follows:

Due on principal thereof Two Hundred Forty-nine 40-100 Dollars, ($249.40).

Due on account of interest accrued on said bond Forty-one 71-100 Dollars, ($41.71).

Due on account of penalties accrued on past due payments, $8.13. Total amount due on said bond Two Hundred Ninety-nine 24-100 Dollars, ($299.24).

That the name of the owner of said property mentioned in said bond is F. H. Vesper, trustee.

Unless the amount of said bond as aforesaid, together with the cost of publication of this notice is paid, the real property mentioned in said bond, and hereinbefore described, will be sold at public auction, as aforesaid, on the 19th day of November, 1921, at the hour of 10 a. m., of said day, at the office of the undersigned, City Treasurer of the City of Glendale, in the City Hall, No. 575 West Broadway, said City.

This notice shall be published for two weeks in the Glendale Sentinel-Progress, a newspaper of general circulation, published in the said City of Glendale, which said newspaper is hereby designated by me as the newspaper in which this notice shall be published.

J. C. SHERER,
City Treasurer of the City of Glendale.
